Peace Impossible as Long as Enemy Demands Territory, Chancellor Declares.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 10.—The German chancellor, Dr. Georg Michaelis, in speaking of peace today, according to advices reaching here, said that as long as Germany's enemies demanded any German soil, as long as they tried to drive a wedge between the German people and their Emperor peace was impossible.

persuading Mr. Krenning to leave. He and another man then pointed out to Mr. Krenning the police and Mr. Krenning was arrested.

Since then I have been unable to communicate with Mr. Krenning and I have asked Attorney Jephth, D. Howe and Otto F. Stifel to look after him.

Mrs. Krenning related that she had seen war service as a trained nurse at Chickamauga Park during the Spanish-American War, and that she and her husband were always patriotic.

Says He "Is Not Begging Mercy." Krenning, in a continuation of his statement to reporters at police headquarters, declared that "he is willing to pay the penalty for what he did last night, whatever it was that he did, and that he is not begging mercy."

"My mind is hazy as to last night's happenings," he added, "for I had had a few drinks. I am very sorry for what occurred. I had a cold and tried to whisper something to my wife and I may have spoken louder than I intended. I am a true American, and will stand the consequences of what I might have done."

Krenning is a native of St. Louis. He financed the Morris Motor-Car Co. which is president until recently, when he withdrew to establish the One-Wheel Motor Truck Co. which has a factory at 2122-30 Chouteau avenue. He has a wide acquaintance in financial circles and is considered wealthy.

German sabotage in munitions plants in this country or knew anything about it.

"The Zimmerman message, if genuine, is a complete surprise to me," he declared. "The only thing I can say about it is that it is a matter about which I could possibly know nothing. I can positively say that I have had nothing to do with sabotage nor have I ever been approached by any German on that subject."

"It is an outrage for the State department to publish documents reflecting on American citizens without any proof that they have been connected with the subject matter. I have been active in fighting the British propaganda with my voice, pen and energy because I have been convinced that reason is a far more effective weapon than dynamite."

"My work has been in the open. I have been connected with no secret intrigues. Every newspaper in the country is familiar with my work and Mr. Lansing knows this as well as they do."

GEORGE M. BROWN DICK CARTER TAKES STAND TO TESTIFY AGAINST PIERSOL

BROUGH PRAISES BONDS DEFENSE IS OVERRULED

Arkansas Governor Tells Gathering at M. A. A. Subscription is Pledge of Patriotism.

George M. Brown, president of the Certain-Tied Products Corporation, formerly the General Roofing Co., with offices in the Boatmen's Bank Building, has purchased $250,000 worth of Liberty loan bonds through the St. Louis Union Trust Co. He said part of the bonds were for the company, to be distributed among the officers and department heads.

The Chamber of Commerce announced today that the Kinloch Telephone Co. had subscribed for $100,000 of the bonds yesterday. The other corporations of the city had pledged purchases that will aggregate $113,000.

The concerns which announced their intention to buy are: National Candy Co., $50,000; Cruden-Martin Manufacturing Co., $50,000; and American Paper Co., $13,000.

The St. Louis employees of the Burroughs Adding Machine Co. sold $10,000 of the bonds yesterday. The company has sent today orders for the sale of the bonds to its employees in all parts of the country. The employees are to sell to their relatives, friends and acquaintances.

Other large individual subscriptions made by corporations and previously announced in the Post-Dispatch are: International Shoe Co., $500,000; Broderick & Bascom Rope Co., $250,000; and John Seullin, $100,000.

Brown remarked that he does not believe the loan will be a success solely through the efforts of big business, but that the small investors will assure its complete success.

More than a hundred county chairmen of Liberty Loan organizations met at the Missouri Athletic Association during the morning to discuss arrangements for a state-wide bond-selling campaign. They were invited here by the Eighth Federal Reserve District Liberty Loan organization.

Sunday, Oct. 21, has been designated as patriotic day throughout the United States on which church bells will be tolled for 10 minutes at a specified hour, and sermons in support of the bonds will be delivered. This date is eight days before the close of the campaign.

Gov. Charles H. Brough of Arkansas, an educator who held the chair of political economy for 12 years in the university of that State, was the principal speaker at noon today at the joint patriotic meeting held in the Missouri Athletic Association under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce Liberty Loan Organization, the Missouri Athletic Association and the City and Rotary Clubs.

Gov. Brough said the Liberty Loan bonds are the most attractive investment ever presented by any Government, from the fact that they are convertible gold bonds, bearing a 4 percent interest, payable semi-annually, and that all issues of less than $500 are totally exempt from taxation. He said the provision which gives the holders the right to exchange them for bonds of a higher rate of interest, if any shall be issued before the termination of the war, makes them doubly attractive.

"No Peace With Autocracy." He pointed out that a purchase of the bonds was a purchase of glittering American patriotism, since the proceeds of their sale were to be applied to adequately equip the soldiers of the national army and the sailors of the navy, to make them as effective and powerful as possible, to give them life and indemnity insurance and to provide for their dependents.

Gov. Brough urged his hearers not to hold any special regard toward the German people, whom he characterized as an efficient and expansive people, but told them a steadfast concert for peace can never be maintained except by a partnership of democracy; that an autocratic government, manned by a German Kaiser, an Austrian Emperor or a Bulgarian King, can not be trusted to keep faith with anyone or observe its covenants; that there must be a league of honor, a partnership of interests of mankind are paramount to the interests of any nationality.

"It is our duty," he continued, "to see that our boys do not go half-clad, half-fed, unacquainted or unprepared, to the war is not only fought, but financed by our faith by our work; to subscribe liberally to the $2,000,000,000 loan which is being floated, and the $1,000,000 war library fund which is being raised, and the twentieth century Red Cross crusade, typical of the chivalry of this age."

Expert to Testify Piersol Wrote Keet Ransom Letters

Gus V. R. Mechin Is in Marshfield Today to Be a Witness for the State—He Studied Defendant's Handwriting.

Gus V. R. Mechin, St. Louis handwriting expert, is in Marshfield, Mo., today to testify that, in his belief, the letters sent to Holland Keet of Springfield, directing him as to the payment of a ransom to recover his kidnapped child, were written by Claude G. Piersol, who is now on trial for the kidnapping.

The four communications sent by the kidnappers to Keet have been placed in evidence. Two were letters sent through the mail, one was a note delivered by a messenger, and the fourth was a post card. All appeared to have been written by the same person.

The writer of the letters realized that they might later be submitted to a handwriting expert, for he stipulated that the letters should be returned when the proposed ransom for the child was paid. "Put both of letters and envelopes with money," he wrote in the second letter.

Writes Copy of Letter. The prosecuting authorities at Springfield obtained some specimens of Piersol's handwriting and questioned Keet. This was not difficult, as he was in the habit of writing letters and notes to his acquaintances. But for comparison with the letters and the envelopes in which they were sent, he was desired to get more specimens of his handwriting, and particularly to get him to write the word "Holland," which is Keet's first name, and which was on the envelopes sent by the kidnapper, and "Springfield."

When Piersol was in the St. Louis jail for safekeeping, Chief of Detectives Allender induced him to write several sheets of original and dictated matter on stationery of the Schmidt, a Government agent. Judge Farrington was examined first. He told of being present at a room in the Woodruff Building in Springfield, where he wrote to Taylor Adams on June 1 in which he stated that he made the "deal" he had been talking to Adams about and that he had heard Cletus Adams had turned his name and the names of six others to the Department of Justice as German spies.

Defense Raises Objection. The defense objected to any testimony about the alleged German plot or any statements made by Piersol with reference to it on the ground that it was irrelevant and on the further ground that any statements made by Piersol in this connection were obtained under duress.

The Court then granted permission for the defense to introduce Deputy Sheriff Jeff Harris of Greene County who testified that he was present when Piersol was questioned by Schmidt and that the latter made threats that Piersol would be shot as a traitor and on one occasion held a watch on him and gave him five minutes in which to answer a question. After hearing this testimony the Court overruled the objection of the defense and the examination of Judge Farrington proceeded.

The Judge said his stenographer had taken down Piersol's explanation of the letter to Adams as contained in answers given to Schmidt, but Farrington could not identify a typewritten document as the transcript of those answers. He was then asked to give his recollections of those answers. He said he did not remember them. The Court then permitted the State to read from the document to refresh his memory. On cross examination he testified that Piersol declared the "deal" mentioned in the letter was not real. The most dramatic moment in yesterday's proceedings was when Mrs. J. H. Keet, mother of the kidnapped baby, took the stand as the second witness. Her husband had preceded her and had given his version of the child's disappearance.

Mrs. Keet is 30 years old and looks much younger. She was plainly but stylishly dressed. In reply to a question from Special Prosecutor Patterson, she said it was the first time she had ever been a witness in court. She looked appealingly toward her husband, who sat by the group of State attorneys.

She testified that she had been married nine years and that before the kidnapping her family consisted of herself and husband and two children, James, 3 years old, and Lloyd, 14 months old.

"Relate the circumstances of the night of May 30, last," Prosecutor Patterson asked her. "At 8:30," she answered, in a low voice, which the Court had to admonish her to raise. "I put Buddy to bed—that is what we called him—Buddy."

"I put him in his little baby bed in the bedroom where my husband and I slept. His bed was by the side of mine."

"When you last saw Buddy?" Attorney Patterson asked. "About 8:30," she answered. "The only time I saw him was when he went in the room and he was asleep."

She then testified that the child slept in another part of the house with Ida, McCammon, nurse's "Buddy." Her servant, Jennie Hargre, the cook, slept upstairs. She continued that she and her husband started in their automobile to the Springfield Country Club shortly after 9:30, for the opening of the summer season.

"When did you return home?" Attorney Patterson asked. "About midnight," she said, and then she was asked to tell what she found.

"I went to our bedroom," she said, "and Buddy wasn't in his bed. Then I went to Ida's room and asked her where 'Buddy' was. She said he was in his bed and I told her to go. She went with me to his room and then we went upstairs to see if Jennie had him. But he wasn't there. About that time my husband came in after putting up the car and he helped search about the house. Then Ida noticed that the bed covers were gone, too."

At this point Prosecutor Patterson produced a bundle. Mrs. Keet was asked to identify it. Mrs. Keet said it was the bundle she had found in the room. The bundle was unwrapped and the contents were shown to the jury. The bundle contained a letter from Piersol to Keet, a letter from Keet to Piersol, and a letter from Piersol to Keet, all of which were read to the jury.

Here Attorney Page for the defense interposed that the defense would admit those were the garments worn by the child and asked that the mother be spared the ordeal of identifying them.

KENTUCKY SUES FOR INHERITANCE TAX ON MRS. BINGHAM'S ESTATE. LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 10.—State Revenue Agent Byars has filed suit to collect inheritance taxes estimated at between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 on the estate of Mrs. Robert Bingham.

Mrs. Bingham, formerly Mrs. Henry M. Flieger of New York, died at her home in Louisville last July. The body was taken to Wilmington, N. C., where relatives, who asserted they wanted the cause of her death determined more definitely, caused it to be exhumed. An autopsy was performed and some of the organs sent to New York for chemical analysis, the result of which never has been announced. Mrs. Bingham's estate is estimated at $20,000,000, including $5,000,000 in personal property. Recovery of the inheritance tax has been estimated at $2,000,000. It has been stated, would be sufficient to liquidate the entire debt of the State of Kentucky.

JUDGE MILLER MAY NOT HEAR CASES OF FARRIS AND CUMMINS. With the cases of State Senator Frank H. Farris, former Patrolman Ray Cummins and James J. Mackay, set for next Tuesday, on charges of conspiring to commit a felony in connection with the police salary fund, Judge Miller of the Court of Criminal Correction today told "Post-Dispatch" reporter he "might go away" next week and turn his court over to a provisional judge.

There have been rumors that Judge Miller would disqualify himself because of his personal acquaintances with Farris. He denied that he intended to do this, but said he had been thinking of taking a fall vacation. It is expected the defendants will ask for a jury trial.

More than a thousand already have passed into the station. The weather was even more favorable for flying on Monday than on previous days. Much work, however, in aerial reconnaissance and some artillery was carried out. Two enemy were driven down over the coast. They were shot down with machine guns and many airplanes are missing.

One more successful ally perhaps two, and the German before the superior of the allies in Flanders. Should the German retire line of Bruges-Thielt-Court they would relinquish the greater part of the coast now used by them for their base. Their retirement line would make a sharp north of Lille, unless they give up that stronghold and to Tournai.

FRENCH CONTINUE TO GAIN; BRITISH POSTS PUSHED BACK

German Counter Attacks in New Zone Repulsed by English Except at One Point on Front of 2000 Yards.

Field Marshal Haig Reports Tuesday's Operations Over Difficult Ground Were Very Successful.

Villages and Important Fortified Posts Wreathed From Teutons and Heavy Losses Inflicted.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Several counter attacks were made by the Germans last night in the neighborhood of the Ypres-Staten Railway. Today's official statement says these attacks were repulsed, but south of the railway on a front of 2000 yards a British advanced troops were forced back a short distance.

A further advance by the French troops in Belgium in co-operation with the British was announced at Paris. Papegoet farm has been captured and more prisoners have been taken.

British Official.

The official British statement issued last evening said:

"A heavy rain fell continuously during the afternoon and evening of yesterday, causing the ground to become soggy and very difficult for passage of troops.

"Notwithstanding the stormy weather and the water-logged position of the ground, our troops succeeded in launching an attack at 11 o'clock this morning in conjunction with the French on our left with very successful results.

"The front of the attack extended from a point southeast of Broodseinde to St. Janshoek, one mile south of Hixhoek. On the extreme right the Australian troops moved forward over the crest of the ridge and in the direction of Broodseinde, securing all their objectives.

"On the left, a third line territorial division, comprising Manchester, Lancashire and Lancashire Light Infantry, advanced on the left flank of the ridge in the direction of Papegoet farm, capturing all its objectives under most trying and difficult circumstances with great determination and gallantry.

"On the extreme left of the British attack, English, Welsh and Irish troops and the guards have taken all their objectives and gained the outskirts of the forest of Houtholst, nearly two miles north-northwest of Papegoet farm.

"On our left flank the French crossed the Broenbeck Stream, which is in flood, and also gained the outskirts of the forest of Houtholst, capturing all their objectives, including several hamlets and many fortified localities.

"More than a thousand prisoners already have passed into the collecting stations.

"The weather was even more unfavorable for flying on Monday than on previous days. Much work was done, however, in aerial reconnaissance and some artillery work was carried out. Two enemy machines were driven down out of control. Ground targets also were attacked with machine gun fire. Two of our airplanes are missing.

"One more successful allied stroke, perhaps two, and the Germans must be before the superior power of the allies in Flanders and retreat. Should the Germans retire to the line of Bruges-Thielt-Courtrai-Lille, they would relinquish their hold on the greater part of the Belgian coast now used by them for submarine bases. Their retirement to this line would make a sharp bend north of Lille, unless they choose to give up that stronghold and retreat to Tournai.

French Official.

PARIS, Oct. 10.—The official bulletin given out today says:

"In Belgium we made further progress east of Draesebank, occupying Papegoet farm and taking 40 prisoners. On our new front the enemy undertook only patrol operations.

"North of the Aisne the German artillery was particularly active in the region of Laffaux. We made a successful attack northwest of Colombiers farm.

"On the right bank of the Meuse in the region of the Chaume wood, there was active artillery fighting with no infantry engagement.

"The official statement of last night said: "In Belgium an attack launched by us this morning, was carried out with particular brilliance. After having crossed the marshy Promesbeck Brook, our troops captured with admirable spirit along a front of two and one-half kilometers, the enemy defenses, notwithstanding the difficulties of terrain and the bad atmospheric conditions. The village of St. Jean de Mangelaere and Veldboek, as well as numerous farms turned into blackhouses, fell into our power. Our advance which reached a

A. P. MACAULEY IS EXONERATED OF FORGERY CHARGES

Cases Dropped in New York as Strange Case of Mistaken Identity.

WAS ARRESTED HERE

Established That He Was Not "Christmas" Keough, Noted Check Forger.

Alexander P. Macauley, an oil and mining broker of Toronto, Canada, who was arrested in St. Louis Jan. 3 last on a charge of passing worthless traveler's checks and later taken to New York for trial on similar charges, in the belief that he was Lawrence (Christmas) Keough, noted check forger, was exonerated yesterday before Judge McIntyre in the New York Court of General Sessions.

On motion of Assistant District Attorney Kilroe, the cases against Macauley were dismissed. Kilroe said that Macauley's arrest and prosecution had been a strange case of mistaken identity and expressed regret for "the humiliation and suffering of Mr. Macauley." Judge McIntyre spoke in similar vein of the injustice which had been done to Macauley.

Circuit Attorney to Investigate.
Circuit Attorney McDonald today said he would write to New York for further information as to Macauley's exoneration there before deciding whether he would revive the prosecution here. The charges against Macauley in St. Louis was not pressed so that he might be taken to New York on extradition.

The Circuit Attorney said that it would be necessary to have him indicted again before he could be brought back. Even in that event, he said, Macauley could resist extradition to Missouri on the ground that he did not leave here as a fugitive from justice, but on a regular order issued by Gov. Gardner.

The peculiar series of circumstances which caused Macauley's prosecution started in St. Louis Dec. 30 last, when a man went to the Famous & Barr store about 2 p. m. and ordered a $66 camera. In payment for which he offered a $200 traveler's check drawn on the Toronto Branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. The store refused to accept the check. On the same day, a few minutes before 6 p. m., a man purchased a $75 set of furs at the Stix, Baer & Fuller store, tendering the same kind of a check, which was accepted.

Police Are Notified.

Later the credit man of the Famous & Barr store recalled that he had received a circular warning him that a noted crook known as Christmas Keough had been active for several years in passing bogus $200 traveler's checks drawn on the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Believing that the check offered by the camera purchaser was one of these, the credit man notified the St. Louis police.

St. Louis detectives had nothing definite to go on in finding the man who attempted to pass the check. From the fact that the checks were on a Toronto bank they concluded he would be a Toronto man, and on that theory they searched the registers of all the hotels until they found the name "A. P. Macauley, Toronto, Canada," on the book at the Hamilton Hotel. With this "clue" as their guide they searched the registers of all the hotels until they found the name "A. P. Photographs of Macauley and Man for Whom Police Mistook Him sole reason they arrested Macauley, who had been at the Hamilton Hotel with his wife, son and daughter, since Dec. 23. At the time he asserted it was ridiculous to accuse him of wrongdoing and told the detectives they were making a "serious mistake."

"CHRISTMAS" KEOUGH A. P. MACAULEY

Then the machinery of "identification," which often slips a cog, was put to work. Several employees of the Famous & Barr store said Macauley was the man who tried to purchase the camera there. Employees of the Stix, Baer & Fuller store were equally positive he was the man who bought the furs. Other employees were not so certain in their "identifications," but said he "looked like the man."

Check was Forged.
Meanwhile telegraphed inquiries brought information from Toronto that the check given in payment for the furs was undoubtedly a forgery, as the bank had ceased issuing checks in the $200 denomination because "Christmas" Keough had begun counterfeiting them years before.

The reference to "Christmas" Keough, started the identification machine to working again. City and private detectives compared a police photograph of Macauley taken after his arrest with a photograph of "Christmas" Keough, taken in Denver 22 years earlier, and gave out a statement that there were "many points of resemblance."

Some detectives said this resemblance was not apparent to them. The handwriting of Keough and Macauley were also compared in an effort to find points of similarity. Macauley, held prisoner by the police here, continued to protest that he was innocent. The police were equally confident that they had the right man, but their confidence was shaken by a queer happening. One of the forged checks was passed in Chicago while Macauley was a prisoner in St. Louis.

The Chicago check, like the ones offered at the St. Louis stores, was payable to J. A. Paget, a name known to have been used by "Christmas" Keough. It also was offered in payment for a camera, one of "Christmas" Keough's favorite purchases in disposing of the bogus checks.

The arrest of Macauley in St. Louis and the identifications here were accepted at their face value, in New York, where several of the bogus checks had been passed early in last December. The New York police requested the St. Louis police to hold Macauley as a fugitive from justice to answer an indictment there.

Released on $10,000 Bond.
Macauley was released here on a $10,000 bond, covering the fugitive charge. On gaining this temporary freedom he immediately began the collection of evidence to prove his innocence. He obtained affidavits from many Toronto citizens, who vouched for his good character and to the fact that he was at his Toronto home in the early part of December, at the time the bogus checks were being circulated in New York.

He introduced himself to several of the Toronto business men who had dealings with him there. He came forward and said they knew he was at the hotel at the hours when the checks were being offered at the department stores Dec. 30. He also showed that he arrived at the Hamilton Hotel to join his wife and children on the evening of Dec. 23, the day on which several of the bogus checks were passed in New York.

He offered a complete alibi covering the time from Dec. 18 to Dec. 30 and produced proof to Gov. Gardner at Jefferson City that he came to St. Louis direct from Canada and had not stopped in New York.

Macauley was indicted here on a second-degree forgery charge based on the "identifications" by store employees, but the St. Louis Circuit Attorney agreed to waive prosecution on the local charge and permit him to be taken back to New York on requisition. This was done early in February.

Another Bogus Check Passed.
In New York Macauley was released on bond. Then followed another strange circumstance which shook the confidence of the prosecuting authorities. While Macauley was in his room at the Manhattan Hotel in New York another of the bogus checks, payable to J. A. Paget, was passed in Chicago.

Macauley ever since his arrest here has maintained that a man so closely resembling as to be almost his "double" has been passing the forged "travelers' checks." Friends have said that he has spent nearly $50,000 in gathering evidence which would clear him of the charge and re-establish his good name.

MAN IN PRISON 53 YEARS WILL BE GLAD TO RETURN

Frank H. Punshon, Swindler Says He Has Concluded He Cannot Reform.

Frank H. Punshon, whose confessions during the last 53 years of his life in prison, says he would rather be in the penitentiary than out. He told detectives that after failing in several attempts to reform, he has concluded that he cannot.

Punshon, who was paroled from the penitentiary at Jefferson City only last March, was brought to St. Louis last night from Milwaukee, where he was caught by a woman with whom he had attempted to flee. He was trying to escape from her when a drawbridge over the Milwaukee river was elevated to permit the passage of a boat and he was trapped. His partner, Miss Jennie Keough, said, held him until a policeman arrived.

Passed Forged Checks.
After his parole was granted, Punshon went to St. Louis, where he stole a grip belonging to Mrs. H. Noland Jr. of 5553 N. 10th place, St. Louis. The grip contained a check book, and Punshon, posing as "H. Noland, real estate dealer," succeeded in passing several of the bogus checks after forging Noland's signature to them.

He came to St. Louis several weeks ago and inserted advertisements in newspapers for a governess. He introduced himself to several of the women, who answered his ad, as a wealthy widower with two children. He exhibited a post card picture of two little girls which he had purchased as a photo gallery and succeeded in passing several of the bogus checks after forging Noland's signature to them.

After inducing his victims to introduce him at banks where they had accounts, Punshon cashed several of the bogus checks and disappeared. Among his St. Louis victims were Mrs. Logan Mueller of 4122 Delmar boulevard and Mrs. Elizabeth M. Jordan of the Y. W. C. A. Fourteen of the bogus checks were cashed.

Punshon later turned up in Milwaukee, where he worked a similar game on several women. One of his victims, Miss Kessell, met him on the street a few days after she had discovered his duplicity and chased him to the bridge.

"I wish they would send me over the road for good this time," Punshon told detectives. "I've tried to reform, but no one will give me a chance to make an honest living. Of all the grafts I ever worked, this check racket was the easiest. I had cards printed with Noland's name and the way the suckers fell for the trick was a joke. Why, I had no trouble at all in having the checks cashed."

In the earlier stage of his criminal career Punshon, after becoming acquainted with women, through visiting for housekeepers, would steal at their homes and steal value of the goods.

Courtmanial Acquits Gen. Blanco.
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 10.—The second courtmanial of Gen. Lucas Blanco, well known along the Texas border and one of the prominent figures of the early days of the constitutional movement which was recently completed, resulted in his acquittal. He was charged with treason and with the usurpation of military authority. Blanco was a very able leader under Gen. Alvaro Obregon. He was arrested more than two years ago.

PRINCIPAL SUDDENLY QUILTS DOZIER SCHOOL

Wife of William L. Gunnerson Declines to Discuss Probability That He Has Left City.

William L. Gunnerson, principal of the Dozier School, Goodfellow and Maple avenues, has resigned his position, and is believed by acquaintances to have left St. Louis. At his home, 1325 Blackstone avenue, Mrs. Gunnerson refused this afternoon to comment on a report that his whereabouts were unknown to her.

Assistant Supt. Knox of the Board of Education, under whose immediate supervision Gunnerson worked, said he could not account for the principal's sudden abandonment of his work. He had been connected with the St. Louis schools for 14 years, and had been at the Dozier School for the last five years.

Supt. Withers said Gunnerson was considered one of the most able educators in the city.

The resignation was accepted by the Board of Education last night, and no other principal for the Dozier School has been named.

The note informing the board of the resignation was brief, and Knox said it did not contain any explanation of the principal's decision.

FEWER SEWING MACHINES IN MADISON COUNTY THAN AUTOS Tax Assessor's List Shows Hogs Worth $2.72 Apiece and Cows $10.72 Each.

A comparison between business and pleasure is drawn in the assessment totals of Madison County, just completed by County Clerk Calvin J. Blattner. There are but 2353 watches and clocks listed in the entire county, which is less than the number of automobiles owned; this latter figure reaching 2524.

It may be that the dollar watch holds sway and the Assessor disdains to notice it. He found fewer sewing machines than autos, 2211 being listed. Hogs in the county, numbering 11,822, are valued at $2.72 apiece by the Assessors, while the 17,428 horses average $23.85 a head. Beef cattle, numbering 26,525, are apparently worth little more than a few pounds of beefsteak, being given a value of $10.72 each by the assessors.

MAN BREAKS WOMAN'S NOSE, THEN SHE IS HURT IN ACCIDENT

Fire Witness Attacked When She Yells "Thief," as Man Leaves Building With Package.

Mrs. Maxine St. Cyr, 25 years old, of 2546 Hickory street, was watching a fire at 2610 Locust street from the automobile of Theodore Goldman, a salesman, of 3715 Bamberger avenue, at 1:30 o'clock this morning. She saw William Burns, a machinist, 21 years old, of 4265 Marquette avenue, carrying a package and was under the impression that he had stolen something from the burning building.

When she cried "thief," and pointed to his bundle, Burns jumped on the running board of Goldman's auto and hit Mrs. St. Cyr in the face, breaking her nose. Burns was arrested.

Mrs. St. Cyr accompanied by Patrolman William Wiley and August Schadt, an ambulance driver, of 2610 Morgan street, who had witnessed the assault, was taken to the city hospital. In front of 1738 Chouteau avenue, Goldman lost control of the steering apparatus, his car collided with a telephone pole. Patrolman Wiley was pitched through the windshield and a piece of broken glass cut the ball of his left eye. He also was cut on both legs and the right arm. Goldman's left knee was dislocated and Schadt was cut about the face. Mrs. St. Cyr was cut and bruised. All remained at the hospital.

The fire, which was in the Ford magnet plant, caused about $2500 damage.

SENATOR REED HERE, REFUSES TO TALK ABOUT HIS CRITICS
United States Senator Reed is in St. Louis today on his way to Kansas City. He says he is going home to assist in the Liberty Bond campaign and to help out in such other work as is necessary to carry the war to a successful issue.

He would not comment on meetings called by constituents and others throughout the State to discuss his attitude and that of Senator Stone toward administration projects. When asked what he thought of these meetings, he said: "If you have nothing of more importance than that to talk about, I have nothing to say."

The Senator was asked if he had heard of any opposition to the reappointment of Postmaster Colin Selph. He declared that he had heard nothing of the kind.

Your duty as an American citizen is plain, definite and imperative. Your sons and your neighbor's sons are going abroad to fight for their country, their flag, their homes, and for YOU.

They cannot fight without food, shoes, clothes, bread and bullets. The Government looks to you for the money to buy these things. Your duty is to lend this money.

This bank has given its employees, from the highest to the lowest, a Bonus in Liberty Bonds equal to 10% of their annual salary, to foster patriotic performance of duty, and to encourage its employees to put their money in the very best possible form of investment.

This bank will take YOUR subscriptions to the new 4% Liberty Loan on the usual Government terms of payment, or we will buy your bonds for you and you may pay in installments of $1, $2, $5 or $10 a week, interest to be properly adjusted when you complete payment.

NATIONAL BANK OF ST. LOUIS
BROADWAY AND OLIVE

Delegates to the American Institute of Mining Engineers visited Illinois coal mines and the steel mills and smelters in and about St. Louis this afternoon.

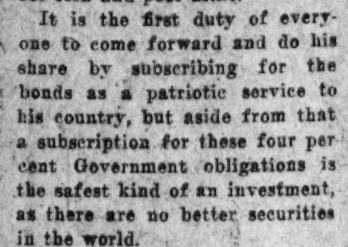

Missouri Increases Output.
H. A. Buehler, Missouri State Geologist, reported that Missouri is capable of producing large quantities of pyrites and that mines are in process of fuller development. He stated that one of the big packing companies recently made a five-year con-

Government authorities at Washington have informed the Institute that 8,250,000 tons of sulphuric acid were produced in this country last year. The production of sulphuric acid without handicap in the country is necessary to increase this production to 5,000,000 tons during 1917. The principal pyrites mines are in Virginia. The cost of transportation facilities the California deposits almost unavallable. Last year 40 per cent of the sulphuric acid production came from pyrites shipped from Spain, 20 per cent from domestic pyrites, 22 per cent from smelter acid and 19 per cent from native sulphur.

Mexico Confiscates Property.
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 10.—Properties valued at several million dollars, held by private individuals have been taken over by the Government on charges that they belong to the Catholic Church instead of pretended owners. Under the new constitution all church property becomes property of the nation. The properties are in the states of Puebla, Durango, Michoacan and Jalisco.

Portuguese King in Spain.
MADRID, Oct. 10.—President Machado of Portugal and other Portuguese officials who are on their way to visit the Portuguese army in France were met at the railway station at San Sebastian by King Alfonso. They had lunch with the King at Miramar Palace before continuing their journey.

BY JOHN SCULLIN.

These bonds pay better than a six per cent bond of other classes upon which the State and City taxes are paid. I took $100,000 of them, although I was not seeking an investment. I realize I have a good investment, however. It is better than any other I could purchase on the market today.

What's More, You Save About $2 by It. Easily Made and Costs Little. You can make what a fine cough syrup you can make when you prepare this famous home-made remedy. You not only save $2, as compared with the ready-made kind, but you will also have a more effective and dependable remedy in every way. It overcomes the usual coughs, throat and chest colds in 24 hours—relieves even whooping cough quickly.

Get 24 ounces of Elixer (60 cents) and a pint of drug store, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Here you have a full pint—a family supply—of the most effective cough syrup that money can buy. It costs only 60 cents or less. It never spoils.

It quickly loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes, and relieves coughs almost immediately. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, bronchitis, croup and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and the best known ingredients for throat and chest ailments.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2 3/4 ounces of Pinex," with full directions, and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

The use of Sage and Saffron faded, gray hair to its original color dates back to grand old time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and alive. Whenever her hair turned dull, faded or streaked with gray, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is out-of-date. Nowadays, by any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of Dr. Wm. C. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, you will get this preparation, improved by addition of other ingredients, which will be depended upon to restore color and beauty to the hair. A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair and even that nobody can be applied. You simply sponge it over, brush with it and wash through your hair. A small strand at a time. The gray hair disappears. Another application or two, and the hair is dark and glossy. Dr. Wm. C. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is a delightful tonic for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not in the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—ADV.

Cuts Franchise to 30 Years, Re-

Subway Question Open.

AIDS INTERURBAN LINES

Some of Changes, Suggested for City League, Already Accepted by Aldermanic Committee.

Several important departures from the original provisions of "Ordinance
No. 2," one of the two bills proposing a "settlement" between the city and the United Railways, have been made by the Aldermanic Public Utilities Committee at the instance of one of its members, and other vital changes being urged by him probably will be adopted.

The amendments which this member of the utilities committee is advocating, if added to the original bill, will make it practically a new measure. The alterations include suggestions or remove objections offered by the City League and other organizations, which opposed both the other bills.

Some Proposed Changes.
In addition to the amendments already accepted by the committee, a Post-Dispatch reporter learned yesterday that this member has proposed and his associates are considering the following:

Elimination of the subway franchise, which both pending bills would give to the United Railways, and the bestowal of this grant, if at all, by district and independent legislation, and upon wholly different terms and conditions.

Provisions compelling the United Railways to abandon the operation of its cars on certain streets which might hereafter be desirable as "entries" for interurban lines, to remove its tracks from the route selected for an interurban loop and to permit the use of its rails by other railways, including interurban roads.

The mill tax yields to the city $240,000 a year. One per cent on the company's gross revenues in 1916 would have been about $120,000.
The aggregate of these payments would be about $114,000 less a year than the city now collects from the company in the form of mill taxes and franchise taxes.

The pending bills would confer on the United Railways a subway franchise and a practically exclusive privilege to operate a surface system. Subway rights of such great pecuniary value and of such importance to the development of the city should not be bartered away many years in advance of their probable use and without competition, this Alderman says.

With the same object of anticipating the need and growth of additional facilities this Alderman advocates a liberal and definite provision for the joint use of streets and tracks by the United Railways and future local and interurban lines.

Fear Invalidation of Mill Tax.
It is pointed out by this member of the Utilities Committee that the pending bills sanction the liquidation of the accrued mill taxes in 10 years without interest during the first half of that period, and with interest at 5 per cent on payments deferred beyond five years. He contends that there is danger that the adoption of this scheme would impair the validity of judgments rendered in the city's favor by extending the time of their settlement beyond the statutory limitation and by the acceptance of a lower rate of interest than was fixed by the courts.

A tentative draft of the amendments already approved by the committee will be presented by Chairman
B. L. Schwartz at tomorrow night's meeting. Chairman Schwartz announces that a complete bill will be ready within six weeks. This will be submitted to the United Railways for concurrence and will be made the subject of public hearings.

WHITE MAN SENT TO NEGRO CAMP
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 10.—
Certified to the National Army as a negro and arriving at Camp Pike with a "consent" of negroes
Cleveland Metoyer of Natchitoches parish, Louisiana has proven to the satisfaction of Col. Shaw, receiving officer at Camp Pike, that he is a white man and today is assigned to White Barracks.

Metoyer said today his exemption board certified him as a negro and that when he protested he was informed that nothing could be done for him and that "the error would have to be fixed up at the camp."

German Railways Curtail Traffic.
LONDON, Oct. 10.—The German
State Railways are faced with a great shortage of fuel and drastic limitations of traffic has been begun according to reports reaching here.

The railroads are reported to be levying excess fares on express trains so as to discourage all except unavoidable business journeys.

A Real Hair Grower and Beautifier

Found at Last—Shows Results in Few Days or Nothing to Pay.

Beautiful Hair and Lots of It—If You Use Parisian Sage.

It's astonishing how much good-looking hair develops from the attractiveness so much desired by women of all ages. It is really pretty hair more than perfect features that give the appearance of youth, beauty, and charm. Any woman can merit this praise, for beautiful hair is only a matter of care.

Dandruff is the root of most hair troubles. It clogs the scalp pores, preventing the hair roots of the stimulating waters intended, thus the hair becomes faded, dry, brittle, scraggly looking, and finally falls out—never to grow again unless the hair root is immediately restored to a healthy condition. As the first sign of dandruff, use Parisian Sage. Parisian Sage is a scientific preparation that cures dandruff—there is nothing better. It not only immediately banishes every trace of dandruff but supplies the proper nourishment to the starved hair roots, stimulating them to grow new hair, thick and lustrous. A scalp massage with Parisian Sage is a pure delight, easy to use, not sticky or greasy, and delicately perfumed—an amber liquid free from dangerous lead or sulphur so perfectly harmless, and guaranteed not to color or streak the hair. It is preferred by discriminating women, because it makes the hair soft, silky, wavy, easy to arrange, and appears heavier than it really is. A large bottle is not expensive at any drug store or toilet counter, but be sure to get Parisian Sage (Giroux's) for this is always sold with guarantee that it must give perfect satisfaction or nothing to pay. There are no strings or red tape to this offer.—ADVERTISEMENT.

ELEVATOR OPERATORS STRIKE IN TWO BIG OFFICE BUILDINGS

Emergency Help Used in Syndicate Trust and Century Buildings in Walkout Over Wage Difference.

Elevators in the Syndicate Trust and Century buildings today are being run by emergency employees, following the strike yesterday afternoon of fourteen regular operators whose demand for an increase in wages was refused by S. W. Murphy, superintendent of both buildings. The operators also had asked for the reinstatement of one of their number who had been discharged.

The men, who are now receiving $50 a month, are asking for an increase of $5. A similar raise is asked for the starters and assistant starters, bringing their wages to $40 a month.

Murphy said today that there had been slight interruption in the elevator service and that no attempt had been made to interfere with the emergency operators.

Pioneer Suffragist Dies.
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 10.—Mrs. Sarah Coleman Blakely, pioneer abolitionist and suffragist, is dead here at the age of 81 years. She was born in Boston in 1835 and had lived in Rochester since 1858. She was a co-worker of Susan B. Anthony and Frederick Douglass, the negro leader.

SIDENER TAKES UP PECULIARITIES IN HANDLING APPEALS

Prosecutor Has Demanded Fees Be Paid in Thirteen "Shuffle" Cases.

Peculiarities about the manner in which cases are handled on appeal between the Court of Criminal Correction and the St. Louis Court of Appeals, are now under consideration of Prosecuting Attorney Sidener, who yesterday asked for a list of all cases pending in the Court of Appeals which were lost in a "shuffle" that prevented their adjudication because the appellants had failed to pay a $10 docketing fee.

There are 13 of the "shuffle" cases, Clerk Joseph Flory told the Prosecution Attorney, that had been in abeyance for many months, although he had tried unsuccessfully to induce attorneys for the appellants to come in and perfect the matters for consideration.

Sidener announced earlier in the day that he would demand that the docketing fees be paid in all the cases or that he would move a dismissal of the appeals and allow the sentences and fines imposed by the lower court upon conviction to be enforced.

Under the system, the appellant, by his failure to pay the docketing fee, keeps the case hanging between the two courts, and in the meantime, out on appeal bond, enjoys liberty indefinitely with the additional hope that the case may be forgotten and he will escape entirely.

Those who have appealed from the decisions of the lower court and who have not come forward with their filing fee are:

William H. Lewis, sentenced to the workhouse for six months on Sept. 1, 1916, for assault with firearms.

Annie Brown, sentenced to six months' imprisonment on June 3, 1915, for gross lewdness.

Frank Weiner and Ernest Frenzel, sentenced to 30 days' imprisonment on Aug. 1, 1915, for an assault upon Douglas Williams, a Post-Dispatch reporter.

Callie Wright, sentenced to 90 days in jail, on Nov. 1, 1916, for immorality.

Myrtle Smith, fined $50 on Sept. 21, 1915, on petit larceny charge.

Francis Wild, fined $50 and costs on Oct. 20, 1915, for practicing medicine without a license.

G. J. Hobbs, fined $50 on Feb. 23, 1916, for practicing dentistry without a license.

Philip Organ, fined for criminal slander on Nov. 4, 1915.

William T. Hays, fined for criminal slander on Nov. 22, 1916.

John Rowe, sentenced to the workhouse for six months, Sept. 2, 1916, for assault and battery.

Charles Rohlfing, fined $50 by a jury on Oct. 16, 1915, for practicing medicine without a license.

John McAfee, who appealed a decision against him in a bond forfeiture case.

James R. Campbell and Oeta N. Chrimer, former detective sergeants, who were fined Dec. 29, 1915 for an assault upon two newspapermen.

A peculiarity of the appeals of Serge. Chrimer and Campbell, upon investigation of papers in the cases, shows that they did not even go to the trouble of giving surety. The bond forms accompanying the petition for appeal are blank and do not contain the name of a bondsman or the signature of the clerk of the court, showing that a surety appeared before him. Matter accompanying the appeal, however, shows that a bond of $100 was required.

Thirteen Cases Pending

Another interesting case is that of Jacob McAfee, the case being styled "the State versus Jacob McAfee and Edward Townsend." Townsend, in the original case, was charged with petit larceny. McAfee was his bondsman, going his surety for $200. When the case was called in court, Townsend did not appear. After a reasonable time McAfee had not shown the court cause why the State should not recover on the bond and execution was ordered. McAfee prayed an appeal from the judgment that the State collect the money.

The Court granted the appeal, allowing McAfee to give a bond of $400 to see it through. But McAfee has not paid his docketing fee and the State has lost its prisoner and has never collected on the forfeited bond.

The Post-Dispatch a year ago exposed the "shuffle" system in the Missouri Supreme Court, which resulted in the abolition of the practice in that tribunal.

New Quarters for Collier Advertising Co.

George B. Collier yesterday announced that his company had closed a lease for a large station of space in the Locust Gas Building, Eleventh and Olive street, and that the Collier company would move in as soon as alterations were completed.

According to Collier, the new office of his company are almost twice as large as their present quarters. The Collier Advertising Co. was organized a little over two years ago by George B. Collier, formerly advertising manager for Lammert Furniture Co., starting with headquarters in the Wright Building and with only one employee beside Collier. Today the Collier company is one of the largest firms of its kind in the city.

MISS DOROTHY TWEEDY TO BE MARRIED FRIDAY

Sister of Mrs. Hayward Niedringhaus and of Mrs. Walter Crunden to Wed Boston Man.

MISS DOROTHY TWEEDY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Benedict Tweedy, of Goshen, N. Y., and Robert Potter of Boston, will be married Friday at Grace Church in New York city, in the presence of the immediate family. Miss Tweedy, with her sister, Mrs. Hayward Niedringhaus, who was until Sept. 18, Miss Lorna Tweedy, has spent much of her time in St. Louis as the guest of another sister, Mrs. Walter Crunden of 525 Clara avenue. Miss Dorothy Tweedy was a belle during her stay. She was a member of the Junior League and took a prominent part in their entertainments.

Mr. Potter is in the aviation corps and has been stationed at Toronto, Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayward Niedringhaus, whose marriage at Paul Smith's in the Adirondacks, was a social event, returned last Wednesday from their wedding trip, and are occupying Mrs. Crunden's apartment. They departed today for New York to be present at the marriage of Miss Tweedy.

Social Items

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Jones, who have been residing at 4011 Westminster place, have taken an apartment in Netherby Hall at 4540 Lindell boulevard. Mrs. Jones will return Friday from a visit to her daughter, Mrs. McNeely, in Philadelphia, and will immediately take possession of her new apartment.

Mrs. William C. McBride of 29 Washington terrace accompanied her daughter, Miss Ellen McBride and Mrs. Lucy Love, departed at noon today for a brief visit to New York. They will return the middle of next week.

Mrs. Arthur Shepley of 50 Westminster place, and her children, returned last week from Jamestown, R. I., where they spent the summer. Mr. Shepley joined them during the summer for a short stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Stratford Lee Morton of 167 Joy avenue, West Groves, have returned from a visit to Fishers Island and New York.

Mrs. William Goddin Boyd of 5601 Washington court returned Oct. 1 from Lookout Mountain, Tenn., where she spent the summer.

Miss Emmeline McDermott and her brother, Louis R. McDermott, have given up their residence at 5803 Bartmer avenue and taken an apartment at the corner of Cates and Hamilton avenues.

Mrs. L. Duthill Cabanne of 4515 Berlin avenue and her daughters, Misses Isabel and Doris Cabanne have gone to Erie, Pa., for a short stay and will return to the city in about ten days.

Mrs. Adele Carman Newcomb and returned from Colorado Springs her mother Mrs. M. H. Carman have where they spent the summer and are at the Buckingham for the winter. They stopped in Chicago for a visit.

Miss Dorothy Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hoffman of 7172 Berlin avenue, and Clarence C. Conrad, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Conrad of 6374 Berlin avenue will be married at 7 o'clock this evening at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. John L. Roemer, president of Lindenwood College will officiate.

After the ceremony there will be a wedding supper for the family and a few intimate friends. The bride will be gowned in a traveling suit of dark blue with hat to match and will wear a corsage of orchids and lilies of the valley. After a honeymoon trip to the East Mr. and Mrs. Conrad will reside at 6374 Berlin avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. McCasland have returned to St. Louis, after being a year in Alton, Ill., and will reside this winter at 5446 Vernon avenue.

Mrs. Max A. Goldstein of 4960 Washington boulevard, chairman of the Board of Managers of the Women's Committee, St. Louis Symphony Society, has called a meeting of the board at her home tomorrow afternoon to plan for the annual meeting of the Women's Committee. A full membership attendance is expected.

PREMIER IN TRIBUTE TO WALES

LONDON, Oct. 10.—An autograph message from Prince Michael David Lloyd George, which was sold at a Welsh fair at Holyhead this week for $500, says:

"This is an age of heroes. There never have been so many in any generation of the world's history, and it is well, therefore, that we should commemorate the fact with the special pride of our time. Moreover, no part of the British empire has made a readier or sturdier contribution than the rugged corner assigned by Providence for Welshmen to dwell in."

NATION-WIDE UNDERSTANDING AMONG DAIRYMEN SUSPECTED

Evidence Said to Have Been Found in Chicago Raid on Milk Producers' Association; Facts for Grand Jury.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—Robert W. Childs, Assistant United States District Attorney, and E. B. Perriko, Federal investigator, are said today to have evidence of a nation-wide understanding among dairymen, as disclosed in the documents seized by recent raids on the office of the Milk Producers' Association in Chicago.

The National Milk Producers' Association, with headquarters in New York, is said to be established for the purpose of organizing the dairymen in various districts, after which creameries and condenseries are built.

The dairymen were offered contracts, it is charged, at prices somewhat above the prevailing market price and seized records are alleged to have shown that there was co-operation among the creameries. State's Attorney Hoyne is conducting the inquiry into the practices of the Milk Producers' Association. The State's Attorney said today he expected to present his evidence to the grand jury next Friday.

Your Child Must Be Strong

Nature starts most children right, and it is the parents' duty to keep them so. Happy spirits—eager appetite—deep refreshing sleep—the love of vigorous play—all these things a child must have in abundance now, if the budding man is to be adequately equipped to conquer in life's battles.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan "The Red Blood Builder"

This time-tried tonic promotes energy and health by enriching and purifying the very stream of life—the blood. If your child is pale, nervous, and easily exhausted; if he is a spectator rather than a participant in the health-making games of childhood try a course of Pepto-Mangan. A beneficial result can be expected unless the child has an organic disease.

Pepto-Mangan wards off anemia, and strengthens the constitution by putting iron in the blood, and creates multitudes of vigorous red blood cells; the poisons which generate in thin, sluggish blood are driven out. Rich, red blood invites robust health, and the invitation is usually accepted.

Children like Pepto-Mangan because of its sparkling color and its pleasant aromatic taste. It cannot impair digestion or injure the teeth.

Friendly Warning: Make certain that you get genuine Pepto-Mangan—Gude's, as there are many counterfeits. True Pepto-Mangan is never sold in bulk; it comes only in packages and bottles as pictured here. Read the circular wrapped around the bottle.

Pepto-Mangan is made only by

CONGRESSMEN HERE FOR MAIL TUBE HEARING

Inquiry to Determine Fate of Pneumatic Service Will Open Tomorrow.

Hearings will begin at the Federal Building tomorrow which will determine the fate of the pneumatic tube mail service in St. Louis. It will be before a committee of Congress composed of Representative Thomas M. Bell of Georgia, Representative A. B. Rouse of Kentucky and Representative Halvor Steenerson of Minnesota, who arrived here this morning.

Senators Bankhead of Alabama, Hardwick of Georgia and Weeks of Massachusetts, who are also members of the committee, were present at a similar hearing in Chicago, and were expected here, but were unable to come.

The three Representatives arrived at Union Station at 10 o'clock and were met by Benjamin B. Bush, president of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, and Clarence E. Howard, as a committee of the Chamber of Commerce. They were taken to the St. Louis Club for breakfast.

Gov. Brough of Arkansas and Senator Reed of Missouri arrived about an hour earlier and were taken to the club. All were guests of the Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon at the Missouri Athletic Association, and Gov. Brough spoke on the Liberty Bonds. The specific purpose of the hearing is to determine whether the contract for the mail tubes in the principal cities, including St. Louis, shall be renewed when it expires in a few months. An effort is on foot to have the service discontinued in the interest of economy. The cost to the Government of operating the service in St. Louis is $23,795 a year. Postmaster Sulph estimates that with three additional auto trucks the same service could be performed for $4700 a year, effecting a saving in St. Louis alone of $29,000.

MANY SOCIETY WOMEN ENROLL FOR MOTOR CAR INSTRUCTIONS

A number of St. Louis society women have enrolled in the Red Cross school for the instruction of motorcar and ambulance drivers. Among them are: Mrs. L. Ray Carter, Mrs. Robert A. Holland, Miss Frances Elley, Mrs. S. W. Fordyce Jr., Miss Grace Semple, Mrs. H. H. Langenburg, Miss Grace Houser, Miss Be-the-Bates, Mrs. Erwin Hiltz and Miss Mary Adeline Smith. Three times a week for three hours each day these women will receive instruction in the repair, mechanism and the handling of automobiles in all emergencies. They will wear the regulation service uniform consisting of a gray great coat, aviator's cap, puttees, leather belt and arm band of the American Red Cross, which bears a wheel and the letters A. R. C. within its circumference.

YOUTH WHO HELD UP MERCHANT CHASED TO ROOF AND CAPTURED

Prisoner Is Identified by Hardware Dealer and by Grocer Who Was Robbed Recently. One of two youths who held up Henry J. Teckemeyer in his hardware store at 2633 Franklin avenue, yesterday afternoon was chased to the roof of a building at 817 North Eleventh street, where he was captured by two policemen.

The prisoner said he was Thomas Skinner, 19 years old, of 2314 Carr street. In his overcoat pocket was a loaded revolver, identified as Skinner's property by his brother and mother. Skinner had tossed the coat away in his flight. He also was identified by Teckemeyer as one of the robbers. After ordering Teckemeyer to give up his money the robbers were frightened away by the approach of a customer.

Moritz Schurr, a grocer at 2800 Morgan street, also identified Skinner as one of two youths who robbed him of $15 and a watch in his store Sept. 22.

Movie Actor's Exemption Appealed. CHICAGO, Oct. 10. The Government yesterday appealed the case of Bryant Washburn, the moving picture actor, who was exempted by the local board on the grounds of a dependent wife and child. Morton Cressy, representing the Provost Marshal in Chicago, said the case had attracted so much attention it was deemed wise to make the appeal, although investigators had reported the actor's claim for exemption was just.

DRAFT BOARD'S WORK FOR DAY SETS RECORD
About 850 Government Appeals and 49 Local Cases Disposed of Yesterday.
The District Appeals Board yesterday set a record when the members decided about 850 Government appeals and 49 individual claims and appeals. This is the largest day's work the board has yet accomplished. The board was able to pass on so many cases because members of the board took many cases home with them Monday night and worked on them. Orders from the Adjutant-General are that there shall not be any cases pending before the board on Saturday night.

The board has decided on the Government appeals from only about eight wards and there are many appeals still pending from the other wards. Chairman Spencer of the board said it planned to pass on close to 1000 cases a day from now until Saturday. If this is accomplished the docket will be clear by Saturday night.
The board, however, will continue to hold daily sessions to handle stray cases which may come up and to prepare the daily docket for the Adjutant-General. This work will take a force of about 15 clerks about 30 days to complete.

Clarence L. Wolf, clerk in the Prosecuting Attorney's office in St. Louis County and city golf champion, whose claims for exemption on the ground that he had a dependent wife, has been pending before the board. Recently wrote the board withdrawing his claim. The board yesterday certified him to the Adjutant-General. An effort was made by Prosecuting Attorney Ralph, through Gov. Gardner, to have Wolf exempted.

BUDHIST TEMPLE IN PERU
Correspondence of the Associated Press.
TOKYO, Sept. 15.—Rev. Taisan Uyeno, of the Buddhist sect of Sodo, has returned to Japan from Peru after building in that country the first Japanese temple in South America. The priest went to Peru in 1903 with 1,000 Japanese emigrants, with instructions to propagate Buddhism. After great hardships, working first as a laborer and then as a maker of confectionery, Uyeno slowly amassed enough money in constructing a temple which he called "Jionji" or "Great Mercy." Later he founded a primary school for the education of the children of the emigrants.

The priest says that when he was building the temple he was prosecuted by Peruvians, and that attempts were made to burn both temple and school. The relations between the Japanese emigrants and the native people have, however, come peaceful and friendly.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS NEED $25,000 MORE TO COMPLETE FUND

Campaign for $100,000 for War Activities Officially Closed, but Soliciting Will Continue. With $25,000 yet to obtain to complete a fund of $100,000 for American soldiers abroad and in cantonments, the official campaign of St. Louis Knights of Columbus ended yesterday with a luncheon of the committee at the Planters Hotel. Archbishop Glennon presided, and it was decided to continue soliciting contributions until the remaining $25,000 shall have been obtained.

The St. Louis quota of $100,000 is part of a $3,000,000 fund in process of collection throughout the country by this organization. The work of collecting the balance will be directed by Secretary J. T. Nugent from headquarters, 3459 Olive street. Contributions announced yesterday amounted to $11,000. The largest total parish contribution was $9000, from the Cathedral. St. Mark's parish was second, with $5000.

SEARCH CONTINUES FOR GIRL WHO ELOPED WITH CHINESE

Oriental Assets She Left Him in Chicago After Trip to China and Started for New York.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—Government agents and private detectives of New York and Chicago continued their search here for Virginia Collier, 16 years old, whose disappearance from New York supplies a twin case to that of Elsie Sigel. The search followed her elopement across the ocean and back again with Lee Moy, a Chinese, when the girl vanished. The search was kept secret until yesterday.

Moy, who is said to be highly educated, was arrested Sept. 30 on a technical charge of entering the country without a permit and sent to Ellis Island. He admitted taking the girl to Pekin, China, it is said, and told where she might be found in Chicago. The address he named here was found to be a vacant lot and detectives returned to question Moy further.

Miss Collier was a settlement worker and the daughter of a wealthy New York manufacturer. She frequently visited Chinatown, where Moy operated several restaurants. Moy is said to have confessed that he gave the girl $1600 and she departed for Chicago, where he met her and both proceeded to China. According to his story, they returned to Chicago and the girl, becoming homesick, left him here and went to New York to visit her parents. Moy asserts this is the last he saw of her.

GERMAN MILITARY STRENGTH EBBING FOR FIRST TIME

French Data Shows Teutons Are No Longer Able to Draw Upon Reserves.

LOSSES IN WEST HEAVY

Supreme Effort Failed and Kaiser Is Now Only Taking Defensive Measures.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Germany's military strength now shows a clear decrease for the first time since the war began, according to a review based upon data of the French general staff, made public here by the French high commission.

Worn down and driven back by the never-ending pounding of the allies on the western front, the statement says, the Germans have made their supreme military effort after drawing heavily upon their inactive armies in the east and calling out their 1918 and part of the 1919 reserves.

Thus, while the allies have reached and are prepared to maintain their full strength while awaiting the coming of America's great army, the enemy resources are diminishing at the very moment when the military situation demands that they increase. "This shows," concludes the statement, "the decisive character attending the operations in 1918, when three great democracies, England, France and America, will unite their entire strength in attacking the enemy, in conformity with the only sound principle of war."

Text of Statement. The commission's statement, issued through the Committee on Public Information, follows:

"Both Franco-German fronts on the Aisne, 1917, and Verdun, 1916, have already been compared and it has been noted that they are practically of the same length. It has been stated that the German forces occupying them before the attack were equally comparable: 12 and 14 divisions. It is known that during the same period, from May to September, the Germans engaged 25 fresh divisions at Verdun and that they have been obliged to engage 45 on the Aisne. Furthermore, during an equal period the French took 5863 prisoners at Verdun and 4500 on the Aisne. This comparison includes only a small sector of the French front. But it showed a very interesting result due to the increase of the material forces of the Allies and the improved French fighting methods since adopted by the other armies and also as testified by the German staff itself, apropos of the battle of the Somme, in explaining their defeat: 'To the perfect use of technical methods.'

"If the above comparison is extended today to the entire Franco-English front, if you consider that from April 15 to June 15 the enemy engaged 108 divisions against the Anglo-French forces, and finally, if one bears in mind that the successes of the British offensive at Ypres, obliged the enemy to engage 15 divisions during the last ten days you can understand why the German losses on the western front grew heavier and heavier. (They suffered the loss of 116,000 men during the month of May; 140,000 men are estimated by the Allied staff during the month of June.)

Fighting Never Ceases. "This is because the fighting on the western front, as a matter of fact, practically never ceases. Whether in the French sectors of Verdun or the Aisne, or in the English sectors of Arras and Ypres, the fighting is only discontinued at one point to be taken up at another. In addition to the big attacks, a quantity of carefully prepared small actions, which have been crowned with success and of which the bulletins are not able to give a clear idea, increase the attrition of the Germans.

"This constant activity, coinciding with the weakness and inaction of the Russians, also explains why the Germans are obliged to maintain and succeed in effectually maintaining three times larger forces on the French front than on the Russian front. (In the beginning of the summer there were 156 divisions to 700 kilometers on the French front, as against 130 Austro-German and Bulgarian divisions, 77 of which were German, on the eastern.) It is known that the Russians' winter practically puts a stop to all active operations, and that the reaction of the internal events in Russia on the eastern front has allowed Germany to consider it a veritable reserve for the western front.

"It clearly appears at present that the German staff, remembering the critical situation in which they found themselves following the Anglo-French success in the Somme in 1916, fears to see the western front broken by the allied offensives in 1917.

"All the measures they have taken have been defensive in character, intended to strengthen their resistance in the face of Anglo-French forces. Not content with declining to give battle and withdrawing a portion of their front on the Hindenburg positions, they have transported to the western front between January and April a certain number of divisions drawn from the eastern front. As this did not suffice, they have drawn the picked men from each of the companies on the eastern fronts and with the assistance of the class of 1918 have formed 17 new divisions, 14 of which have appeared in France.

"They have then exchanged their picked troops of the eastern front for the inferior ones of the western front (Landwehr). Finally, once the battle begun, in order to hold out, they have successively replaced, number for number, those exhausted from the French front by fresh numbers from the eastern front.

"However, in spite of using all these methods of which the latter have been possible, this year, due to the trouble made by the Russian revolution, Germany has made her supreme military effort.

"This is evidenced by the two following statements, which should be compared for future enlightenment:

"1. After the formation of the 27 divisions above mentioned, Germany had intended to create more divisions with the remnants of the series 101-103. Not only has she been obliged to abandon the latter part of her program because of the calling out of a portion of the class of 1918, but she has been obliged to break up several newly formed regiments to reinforce the fighting units and for the first time since the beginning of the war, a clear decrease in the total strength of the German forces is in record.

"2. At the very time that her total strength is diminishing Germany finds herself obliged to increase her reserves on the French front to 40 divisions, with the sole aim of providing relays and resistance. Therefore, just as the offensive strength of the Germans has been broken in the open fields on the Marne and Yser, and in the trench warfare at Verdun, the facilities for conserving that is to say, the possibility of transporting valuable reserves from one front to another, is prevented at present by the continuity and intensity of the Anglo-French offensive. Germany has still great powers of resistance which will take all the allied forces to break. She is capable of executing very vigorous local offensives. But her resources are diminishing at the very moment when the military situation requires that they should increase.

"That is the principal point. "On the other hand, British and French armies have reached their full strength in men and material, and are capable with help of America of maintaining the enormous strength which they have gained to the end of the war. To this strength will be added the great American army, which will arrive as quickly as possible, as three years have demonstrated the value of time and the advantage of each day is gained.

"This shows the decisive character attending the operations of 1918, when three great democracies, England, France and America, will unite their entire strength in attacking the enemy, in conformity to the only sound principle of war."

Easy to Rid Home of Rats and Mice

There is no need of suffering from the depredations of rats and mice now that Stearns' Paste is readily obtainable at nearly every store. A small box of this effective exterminator costs but a few cents and is usually sufficient to completely rid the house, store or barn of rats and mice. The U. S. Government has bought thousands of pounds of Stearns' Paste for use in cities where rats and mice are plentiful. The Paste is also efficient in destroying cockroaches and water-bugs.—ADVERTISEMENT.

Garland's Suits, Very Special Thursday $15.75 and $19.95

Suit at left, black, Polart, twill, silk, hat, shoes, $19.95. One at right, chest velvet, convertible collar, $15.75.

Madam—You who haven't yet bought your Fall Suit and who have the true spirit of conservation. Here's your opportunity, and here's our advice.

Put some of the old-time buying power into your dollars. No desire here to "kill the goose that lays the golden egg." Let the other fellows make war profits if they choose, by skipping in quality or inflating their prices. We're not doing either.

We're doing quite the contrary in this sale, as the Suits we'll sell tomorrow for $15.75 are worth $4.00 to $7.50 more, and those at $19.95 are worth up to $30.00.

We regard this as the most unusual Suit event of the season—that is, in popular priced Suits. The styles are splendid reproductions of some of the best models brought out to sell at $40 and $50. The tailoring is faultless and the materials include broadcloth, gabardine, poplin and men's wear serge—interlined and lined with satins or silks.

High-Class Suits $45 $59.50 $65

The Youthful Tailleur: The Suit that sings the figure in a girlish, supple manner. Belts that wrap about the figure—Duplex belts. Collars that crush softly, or roll to give a slender effect. Coats are long or medium, as you like. Models that fasten straight up to chin or take an irregular line for closing. There's the right Suit here for every young woman or the woman who would look young.

Dresses—Serges, Satins Values Ranging Up to $20 $10.90

It's another case of a manufacturer preferring to reduce the price on 150 dresses, rather than let his stock get too heavy. To this 150 new Dresses we have added over a hundred from our $15.00 and $16.75 lines, in which the assortments are not complete. Serges in navy and black—satin the same. Drooped and plaited skirts, braid and embroidery trimmed. Over 20 styles.

Handsome New Coats $35 $49.50 $65 $79.50

Their smart lines, their graceful drape, the soft, warm materials, the fashionable colorings and their striking new style features will appeal to discriminating women instantly. Bolivias, silver-tones, Pompons, duvetynes, velours and other soft imported fabrics that give such delicious warmth without weight. "Comfy" collars of rich fur, pockets that are made for use as well as style.

Fur-Trimmed Coats $25.00

And Coats that are not fur trimmed. Coats with belts and without. Velours, broadcloth, mixtures and chevrons. Large roomy Coats with big pockets and collars that button close to chin and ears, muffler style. Sizes for women and misses.

Send me away with a smile

Columbia Record A2355—75c

The test of a new song is, "Do the soldiers sing it?" And those thousands of boys out there in the training-camps—encouraged to sing, urged to sing—do certainly sing "Send me away with a smile." They bear down lustily on the old favorites, as they should, but none of the new ones is as often called for, or as readily given, as this splendid expression of what the American soldier of to-day is thinking and feeling. It's a hit. Hear it.

I've Got the Nicest Little Home in Dixie Record A2356—75c. When they aren't singing it, they're spelling it. Listen to it once, and you'll say, "That's a GOOD quartette song." On the other side is "In San Domingo," by Samuel Ash.

The Secret of Home, Sweet Home Columbia Record A2344—75c. Charles Harrison carries you back to old familiar scenes and loving faces in this song about the "dearest spot on earth." And George Wilson sings on the other side, "You Can Always Come Back to Me."

O, Sole Mio (O, Sun I Love) Columbia Record A2350—75c. Every one knows "O, Sole Mio"—one of the best of all Neapolitan folk songs. There's a riot of melody and color in it—and in the equally popular "Maria! Maria!" on the other side. Two splendid tenor selections, these.

Departure of the American Troops for France Record A2354—75c. And a royal send-off it is! Quartette harmony with lots of bells, whistles, drums—everything you'd naturally expect on such an occasion. On the other side is "Arrival of the American Troops in France"—a companion piece.

Levinaky at the Wedding Columbia Record A2310—75c. Levinaky behaves as though he were a twin brother of Cohen—of telephone fame. There's a tale of merriment in this monologue by Julian Rose.

Castle Valeo Classique Columbia Record A5989—12-inch, $1.25. An exquisite waltz arrangement of the Humoresque—by Earl Fuller's Rector Novelty Orchestra. It makes you glad the waltz is coming back.

Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the Boys are Marching Record A2357—75c. The famous war song, sung by Charles Harrison and Columbia Quartette.

COLLECTION OF INTEREST ON LIBERTY BONDS MADE EASY

Postmaster-Generals Will Cash Coupons as Well as the Various Banks and Subtreasuries.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—To obtain interest on Liberty Bonds when they will be as simple and convenient as mailing for one's mail, Postmaster-

General Burleson today announced in a letter to Secretary McAdoo.

A bondholder may receive his interest by merely presenting his coupons, or Treasury warrants issued in payment of interest, on registered bonds to any Postmaster. They will be cashed immediately. Postmasters will be reimbursed from Washington for all coupons and warrants which they cash.

In the interest of bondholders, the Postmaster-General has issued special instructions to Postmasters to honor both coupons and warrants upon presentation.

The United States Treasury, subtreasuries and banks also will pay interest when due as heretofore. Post-offices simply are designated as additional agencies for cashing when due and presented for payment the coupons and interest warrants of Liberty Loan bonds.

BOATMEN'S BANK
BROADWAY AND OLIVELOCUST STREET ABLAZE
FOR CLOSED CAR WEEK

Automobile With Dictagraph to Accommodate Passengers
Is a Feature.

Locust street, from Thirtieth street to the Lindell cut-off, was ablaze with light and flutter with decorations last night for closed-car week. The show for the most part is confined to the show rooms of the automobile and accessories companies, but there are outdoor illuminations, particularly at Garrison avenue, where there are festoons of incandescent lights, which illuminate rows of trucks and truck chassis lining the curbs from Olive street to Washington avenue.

In some of the show rooms are elaborate decorative effects. At many places autumn foliage is used for decoration, with great effectiveness, the light being used to heighten the effect. At others the decorations are of rubber trees, orange trees, amilax and natural flowers.

Many of the cars that are shown never have been exhibited in St. Louis before. The dictagraph, which made its appearance last January, is now installed in all the more expensive closed cars as a means of communication between the passenger and the chauffeur, who is out of earshot in his separate compartment. All of the more expensive cars also have heaters in the tonneau. The heat is supplied by the exhaust from the motor being carried back through a series of tubes below the tonneau.

Although many of the exhibits were not installed until yesterday a good many sales have been reported by dealers.

N. F. Sutton and W. E. Conway Jr. are managers of the show. They have arranged for the auto-horse, a one-wheel tractor, with a trailer attached, to traverse the streets each day with a large sign advertising the show, which is held only at night.

The salesrooms are jammed with the closed cars. For the time being open cars are in eclipse. Many of the cars are new to St. Louisans. They have been coming in for the past week or two, but were held from observation until the show opened. They have new and unique features which earlier models lacked. Changes in the lines of some of the well-known makes are noted.

Although the machines are exhibited in the show rooms of the companies that sell them, the public is free to come often and stay long and look the beauties over without necessarily buying one.

EXPECT TODAY'S FUR PRICES TO PASS $619,500 OF YESTERDAY

Europe Is Demanding Any Kind of Furs—Wild Cat Pelts, Once 9 Cents, Bring 90 Cents.

Europe needs furs and as the active bidding at the Furmen fur sale carried the amount for yesterday up to $619,500, so still more active bidding today is expected to beat that record. On the opening day the sales were $500,000.

Orders from Europe are for any kind of furs at any price. The result is surprisingly high prices for furs that usually bring little. Wild cat pelts, for instance, usually are bid in at about 9 cents apiece. Yesterday they were sold at 90 cents each. The number sold was 4500. The total received for them was $4050.

Nutria is another grade that has leaped from the piebald to the aristocratic class. They used to be sold at any price. Yesterday 110,000 of them brought $55,000.

Australian opossum will be out of the market for the next five years because a closed period has been announced, so there was strong competition for the 73,500 pelts that were offered. They brought $69,750. For a shipment of 10,500 ring-tail opossum $3500 was received.

High prices were obtained for cross fox pelts. Some of these, which formerly would have sold for $50, brought $85. Australian fox pelts which formerly sold for $1.50 brought as high as $2.50.

BOARD OF EDUCATION ELECTS
RICHARD MURPHY PRESIDENT

Provision Made to Devote One Evening Each Week in Night School to Telegraphy, at Government Request.

Richard Murphy was chosen president of the Board of Education last night at the annual election. He was formerly vice president of the board. Dr. Henry L. Wolfner becomes vice president.

Murphy declared he would endeavor to make permanent the junior high school plan, established at the beginning of the present school year as an experiment. The system, he declared, has proven a success.

Supt. Withers' recommendation for the establishment of a course of telegraphy in the night schools, at the suggestion of the Government, was approved and the course will be installed. One evening each week will be devoted entirely to the telegraphy course, the instructors, instruments and all incidental expense in conducting the classes to be furnished by the Government. The training will, it is expected, provide signal operators for the army.

A request of the War Library Council for permission to make collections from the school children for the library fund was granted. The collections will be made Oct. 12.

Supt. Withers announced the enrollment in the night schools, which opened Monday evening, is 19,937, an increase over last year of 298. It was announced that the enrollment in the night classes will be closed after this week and those who fail

GIRLS! MOISTEN A CLOTH AND DRAW
THROUGH THE HAIR

It becomes beautifully soft, wavy, abundant and glossy at once.

Save your hair! All dandruff goes and hair stops coming out! Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanse" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few minutes you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, luster and luxuriance.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

Save your hair. Keep it looking charming and beautiful. You will say this was the best 25 cents you ever spent.—ADV.

MAKE TRAINING CAMPS PERMANENT, SAYS T. R.

Colonel, in Editorial, Declares They Are Laboratories of Americanism.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 10.—The following editorial by Col. Theodore Roosevelt appears in the Kansas City Star today:
By THEODORE ROOSEVELT.
(Copyright, 1917, by The Kansas City Star. Reprinted in the Post-Dispatch by special arrangement with the Kansas City Star.)
Factors of Good Citizenship.
The training camps for the drafted men of the national army are huge factories for turning out first-class American citizens. Not only are they fitting our people for war; they are fitting them for the work of peace. They are making patriotism, love of country, devotion to the flag and a sense of duty to others living facts, instead of unreal phrases. The public schools are laboratories of Americanism for our children; the training camps are laboratories of Americanism for our young men.

I have just seen a party of drafted men from the East Side of New York City start for Camp Upton with a hand playing an American flag flying and two of their number in front, one dressed as Uncle Sam and the other as the Kaiser, dragged along in manacles. There is no 50-50 Americanism in men with such spirit. A Captain at this camp, a Plattsburg man, told me that his company of East Side New Yorkers showed all the intelligence and the zealous desire to learn which the fine young college graduates at Plattsburg have shown. Another Captain told me that one of his men, a young Jew, had come to him and said that at first the East Siders had hated coming, not knowing what was ahead of them, but that now they felt that they were in a university of American citizenship. A surgeon in the camp told that men who proved physically lacking after a week's trial were in most cases bitterly chagrined at being sent away. A Colonel from a Southern camp has reported that already his country boys from the remote farms are straightening and broadening morally, mentally and physically and that the improvement is really incalculable. From every camp we hear of the eagerness with which the men are doing their duty, of their resourcefulness, of the real patriotism which is being rapidly learned. All this means not merely good soldiers in war, but good citizens in peace. It means an immense growth in the spirit of Americanism.

The young men are learning to be efficient, alert, self-respectful and respectful of others; they are learning to scorn laziness, slackness and cowardice. All are serving on a precise equality of privileges and of duty and are judged each only on his merits. The sons of the foreign born learn that they are exactly as good Americans as any one else and when they return to their homes their families will learn it too.

Let all good Americans insist that now, without delay, we make this state of affairs a permanent national policy by law. We have built the camps, we have encountered the failures to provide army uniforms and blankets and all the other exasperating delays which are inevitable when a nation like ours has foolishly trusted to broomstick preparedness. We shall avoid all these things for the future if we continue these camps as permanent features of the life of all our young men, and change the selective draft into a system of universal obligatory military training for all young men of 18 and 20. It being understood that they are not going to war until they are 21. We are now suffering and the whole world is now suffering from the effects of our broomstick preparedness. Let us do away with broomstick preparedness for the future and substitute real preparedness.

Westinghouse Employees Get Increase
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 10.—An increase of 10 per cent of the wages of all shop employees is announced by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co. The increase is effective Oct. 16, and it is said represents an addition to the payroll of $2,000,000 annually.

CONSTIPATION CAUSES OBSTINATE HEADACHES

When your head aches you will usually find the bowels have been inactive, and if you relieve this condition, by clearing the intestinal organs of the fermenting congestion of stomach waste and foul gases, the head is relieved immediately. Remember this the next time you suffer from headache. The combination of simple laxative herbs with popsin sold by druggists under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is highly recommended as a gentle laxative that acts easily and quickly, without griping or discomfort. It contains no opiate, narcotic or habit-forming drug, is pleasant to the taste, and a most effective household remedy. Mothers find it especially desirable as a laxative for children. You can buy Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from your druggist for fifty cents. Get a bottle and have it in the house when needed. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 426 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

Over Sunday

Sunday isn't dreaded by the traveler who is to spend the day at a Hotel Statler.

When he gets up he finds a morning paper under his door, just as on other days.

If he wants breakfast in his room there's no charge for the special service.

There's a desk and stationery, right at hand; there's a circulating ice-water; there's a clean and comfortable bathroom on the other side of a long-mirrored door; there's a well selected library, waiting for his telephone call for a book to match his mood. Downstairs are luxurious lounging rooms; excellent restaurants invite him; at certain hours an orchestra plays for him.

And he gets all these things whether he spends $1 or $20 a day for his room.

Sunday isn't dreaded by the traveler who knows that he will spend the day at a Hotel Statler.

AYS HIGH HEEL PUT CORNS ON TOE

ells women how to dry up corn so it lifts out without pain.

Modern high-heeled footwear bites the toes and produces corns. Many of the thousands of howls of infection and lockjaw are the result of woman's suicidal habit of trying to cut away these painful corns.

For little cost there can be relief at any pharmacy a quality of a drug called troscin which is sufficient to rid one of every hard or soft corn or callus without the slightest danger or inconvenience.

A few drops applied directly to the tender, aching corn stops its growth and shortly the entire corn and all lifts right out. It is a sticky substance, which dries as it is applied, and thousands of men and women use it because it corns right up and comes out without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Get it out and try it if your corns bother you.

Flaming Mass of Pimples On Face and Neck

atching Burning Tetter No. Cuticura Healer

"I had eczema on my face and neck. The skin at first grew very red and then broke out into a flaming mass of pimples which caused disfigurement. My face, itching and burning terribly, was covered with scales and was scratched all over. I was in great distress and could not get any rest at night."

Then I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. They gave almost immediate relief, and after using one Cuticura Ointment and three bars Cuticura Soap I was entirely healed. (Signed) Miss Beale Geddes, Vineland, N. J., Feb. 19, 1917.

It is so easy to prevent skin and scalp troubles by using Cuticura Soap, and other, for all toilet purposes, and then by touches of Cuticura Ointment to first signs of pimples, redness or irritation. Bathe with Cuticura Soap and hot water, dry lightly and apply Cuticura Ointment. At the itching ceases, and complete healing in most cases results in confinement to these super-creamy emollients.

ALLIES FLOUNDERING KNEE DEEP IN MUD PUSH GERMANS BACK

French and British Wrench Away Almost Last Part of Famous Ridge System of Fortifications.

Associated Press.
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9. —The blow struck by the British and French forces today against the German line between the Houtholst Forest and the Paschendale ridge, within less than 1000 yards of the German line, has resulted in another success. Over much of this the attacking troops swept forward to a depth of 1200 yards or more, overrunning many important strongholds of the shattered enemy. This afternoon the allies were digging in almost on the outskirts of the Houtholst Forest, the British were beyond Poelcapelle after sanguinary hand-to-hand fighting, and further south they had gained the Paschendale ridge, within less than 1000 yards of the German line, thereby wrenching away almost all that remained to the Germans of their famous Paschendale-Gheluvelt ridge system of fortifications. Again the German losses have been great and reports from all along the line indicate that their organization and morale were hit hard.

Battlefield a Morass

It has been another wonderful performance on the part of the allies and the victory has been more remarkable because of the tremendous natural difficulties in the way of the advance. The rain of the last two days had turned much of the battlegrounds into a morass, through which the French and the men of the British empire floundered knee deep.

How they could make their way forward over such ground, much less fight over it, is the amazing thing. This very fact undoubtedly contributed to the day's triumph for German prisoners say nobody on their side had thought the allies would advance under such conditions. The appearance of the mud-covered allied troops coming out of the marshes before the German lines apparently unnerved the enemy. They surrendered in large numbers in many places or ran away as fast as they could.

The Germans attempted one counter-attack of considerable size. This was astride Ypres-Roulers railway, and was smashed by the British artillery fire.

Germans Caught Unaware

As in the battle last Thursday a large body of Germans was caught unaware and virtually wiped out. An entire German division, the 227th, was brought up during the night to relieve the division in the line between Poelcapelle and the Houtholst forest. The men were transported in motor lorries from Roulers and arrived at the advanced positions about 3 o'clock this morning. They were ignorant of the nature of the country and when caught in the attack some two hours later they were bewildered and put up little resistance.

The attack was launched at dawn. The French army on the left flank of the British was facing probably the worst section along the line, as the ground over which the men had to advance was interlaced with little streams and the rain had turned the ground into a bog.

The French pushed forward rapidly, however, reducing numerous German pillboxes and redoubts, and had accomplished all they had set out to do by 10 o'clock. This meant that they were some 500 yards beyond Mangelere and almost at the edge of the Houtholst forest.

Heavy casualties were inflicted on the Germans by the preliminary bombardment and during the fighting. At an early hour the French reported the capture of several hundred prisoners and also that their own losses were light.

British Cross River

The northern flank of the British attack had to cross the Boenbeek River and much mud and water was encountered. The troops, however, negotiated the crossing without much delay. The region was studded with concrete redoubts and the embankment of the Ypres-Staden railway furnished good cover from which the Germans could work their machine guns to advantage. The other redoubts gave little trouble, but several near the railway northwest of Poelcapelle put up strenuous resistance. There was heavy fighting at Kolkut, north of Langemark, where there was a nest of redoubts. For the most part the Germans in this region surrendered without making strong resistance.

Some of the hottest work of the day occurred in the town of Poelcapelle. In last Thursday's drive the British had established themselves in the western half of the village and vigorous fighting had continued there ever since. At dawn today hand-to-hand fighting amidst the ruins began in earnest and the Germans were gradually pushed back to the eastern outskirts of the town, where they took up a position in a big brewery. This place was well fortified and every window furnished an opening for a machine gun. The battle continued several hours, but it was announced that the Germans had been forced to evacuate the brewery and withdraw still farther.

Break Through Easily

In the region of Poelcapelle the forward line was held thinly by the Germans and except for the fight in the town itself the British had comparatively little difficulty in breaking through.

The advance on the Paschendale ridge involved the capture of many redoubt positions. A small party of British troops who joined in the attack in this section had marched 11 hours through the deep mud and water before they reached their assembly line. During their journey they fell into shell holes full of water and often had to pause to pull one another out of the boggy ground. Half an hour after their arrival they went over the top and fought gallantly. The story of the fighting in this section is much the same as elsewhere, the Germans apparently being demoralized and offering little resistance.

One temporarily disconcerting feature was encountered as the troops neared the neighborhood of the town of Paschendale. The British shell fire had not destroyed all the trees here and the Germans had mounted machine guns in them. From these nests the enemy was able to worry the advancing troops, but ultimately the runners were cleared out.

Tommy Spares Young Fritz

It was from this section that a wounded British soldier came back to a clearing station that morning leading a youthful German prisoner. The young German had shot the Tommy through the arm as the latter advanced. The German was about to follow this up with a bayonet thrust, but Tommy pushed the steel aside and made his antagonist a prisoner.

"He was so young I couldn't kill him," was Tommy's explanation.

On the ridge north of Broodseinde the British pushed forward over the ruins of the hamlets of Keerslaarhoek and Nieuwenolen without much difficulty. Daisy Wood, just north of Broodseinde, was still holding out at the latest report, but it was virtually surrounded.

A separate attack made by the British south of the main offensive line—on a narrow front embracing Reutel and Polderhoek—was reported to be successful. No deep advance was attempted here, the operation being mainly to improve the positions reached Thursday.

On the whole the Germans made a weak resistance today. Their infantry appeared demoralized in many sections and their artillery fire was weak and erratic. No estimate of the total German losses is possible, but they are believed to have been exceedingly heavy. The British and French losses are reported to have been light. It is estimated at a comparative calculation that in the attack last Thursday the German losses aggregated 20,000.

NURSE FORCES OWN TRIAL FOR KILLING WEALTHY TEXAN

Emma Burmeister Goot From New York to Plead Justification in Otto Koehler Shooting.

PLANS TO SUE ESTATE

Says She Was Freed on $7500
Bail and Warned to Leave San Antonio.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 10.—
Miss Emma Hedda Burmeister, attractive German nurse, charged with instigating the murder of Otto Koehler, millionaire, president of the San Antonio Boying Anciety, who was shot and killed on the afternoon of Nov. 12, 1914, arrived in San Antonio yesterday morning from New York to stand trial.
She declares she will "plead before the world my justification for the killing." Koehler lived in St. Louis several years ago.
With her attorney, Miss Burmeister appeared immediately in the District Court and surrendered. She was weeping, but when the warrant of arrest was read by the Sheriff she quickly regained control of herself.
Habeas corpus proceedings for her release immediately were instituted.
Judge W. B. Anderson refusing to accept a bond of $7500 offered. By agreement, hearing of the application was set for Friday morning, Oct.
12. Judge Anderson then fixed the defendant's bond until the hearing at $15,000. This was given.
Miss Burmeister now has pending a suit to rescind action forfeiting her bond of $7500, which was given in 1914. She failed to appear at that time and her attorney read a note in court to the effect she had gone to Germany.
Miss Burmeister alleges the bond was given without her consent, that she was forced to leave San Antonio under threats from county officials, and that the signatures to the bond were fictitious.
District Attorney D. C. MacArdell, when in New York recently met Miss Burmeister and promised her a fair trial if she returned. Miss Burmeister was met at the station by representatives from the District Attorney's office and her own counsel.

Miss Burmeister Plans to Sue
Koehler Estate for $31,000.
NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Miss Burmeister, who arrived in Texas yesterday, left New York last Thursday night, voluntarily, to insist that she be tried for the murder of Otto Koehler. She is confident that she will be exonerated on her plea of self-defense.

It is her intention then to sue the Koehler estate for $31,000 on two notes of $10,000 each, bearing interest, which Koehler gave to her.
In this matter she will make Koehler's widow, executrix of the estate and State Senator Carlos Bee, lawyer and nephew of Postmaster-General Burleson, defendants. Bee, she alleges, was given the two $10,- 000 notes to collect, but has sent only three remittances—$750 and $3500 in 1916 and $1000 this year.

Koehler was a constant visitor at the San Antonio cottage of the German nurse, who, although well along in her 30's, was much younger in appearance. What trouble grew between them never has been clearly told. One reason given for the reluctance of the San Antonio authorities to put her on trial for murder lies in an avoidance of putting the Koehler family under the light of such publicity as a murder trial would involve.

On the night of Koehler's death
Miss Burmeister and a friend, Mrs.
Daschel, were in her cottage when he called. Mrs. Daschel since has said that Miss Burmeister was dependent, and told Koehler she meant to kill herself. They left Mrs. Daschel and went to another room to discuss matters.

Mrs. Daschel heard three pistol shots. She ran screaming out of the house, alarming neighbors who found the door of the room in which were Koehler and Miss Burmeister locked. It was forced open and the millionaire was found dead.
He had three bullet wounds—in the head, neck and breast. Miss Burmeister had swooned; there was a deep gash in her right wrist.

"I shot him to protect myself and my friend," was the only statement she made then or has made since.
Seen by a reporter in the presence of her New York lawyer, she declined to discuss the particulars on which her self-defense plea will be made.

For six weeks after the death of Koehler she was in jail, but then bail was arranged for her. Only $7500 was demanded—a small bond for so serious an offense. Then she says, lawyers told her to flee from the State, as the San Antonio County authorities were bent on avoiding the scandal of a trial and would seek to put her into an insane asylum if she remained in Texas.

This frightened her, she said, and she came to New York. She says the persons who went on her bond for $7500 were only dummies for the Koehler estate. At any rate, when her case was called and she failed to appear, and the bond was forfeited they did not ask for her arrest.

Crew of Goldfields Released.
A GULF PORT, Oct. 10.—The captain and crew of the American schooner Goldfields, arrested three weeks ago after the seizure of the vessel on charges of "aiding the enemy," were released from jail here by orders from the Federal Department of Justice. Reports at the time of the seizure were to the effect that the crew "had supplied an enemy submarine off the southwest coast of Europe."

For a Fair Street Railway Settlement

The Logical Basis for Tax- ing Street Railways

The State has deprived Missouri public utility companies of any property value in their franchises—their permit to do business in city streets.

The State, recognizing the utilities as public necessities and as more or less complete natural monopolies, undertakes to regulate them so that the public shall get service at cost including a fair return on their legitimate investment.

Long before 1913 this Company's franchises had lost their property value to us. We had learned that St. Louis street railway earnings were not sufficient to pay dividends on stock issued in earlier years against franchise values.

The city has not grown nearly so fast since 1904 as everybody here believed it would.

Street railway revenue has not increased nearly so fast as the Company then believed it would.

Street railway expenses—taxes, labor, equipment and other costs—have increased very much faster than anybody then believed they would.

Since 1913, in which year the State formally deprived utility companies of any property value in their franchises, the St. Louis City Government has levied franchise taxes on this Company (mill tax and underlying ordinance taxes) averaging over $440,000 a year, for a total of approximately $1,750,000.

Logically, the City should have quit taxing our franchises the day the State took their property value from us.

Actually, since 1913 we have been asked to pay $1,750,000 of City taxes on property we didn't own.

Whatever else the City's street railway settlement ordinance may do, it should stop the taxing of this business on property values which the State has taken from us and has restored to the general public.

Logically, since the street railway business no longer contains any public (franchise) value, it should be taxed exactly the same as any other privately owned business requiring no franchise.

There is no valid excuse for laying extra taxes on a street railway unless, after giving good service, financing needed extensions and paying good wages, a fair return on investment and its fair share of the general property taxes, its rates yield a net surplus income enough to be worth considering.

If after meeting the above requirements the street railway earns a considerable net surplus income, the City Government can fairly assert, subject to the State Commission's paramount authority, a right to dispose of that surplus.

In such case the city may fairly claim a large percentage of such surplus for other public uses, as some cities do, or it may ask that car fares be reduced to absorb the surplus, as in Cleveland, where the City Government taxes the street railway only $325,000 a year, as against $910,000 a year here, not including our $230,000 a year paying tax.

STAPLE FOODS TO BE CONTROLLED BY LICENSE SYSTEM

Presidential Proclamation Will Regulate Operation of 'Middlemen.'

TO PREVENT WAR PROFITS

Order in Effect Nov. 1 Will Restrict Meat-Packers, Millers, Cannery, Grain Dealers, Etc.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—About 20 of America's staple foodstuffs Nov. 1 will be placed under Government control by a proclamation of President Wilson, the Food Administration announces. Determination to eliminate profiteering, speculation and hoarding has induced a decision to place under license restrictions meat packers, cold storage houses, millers, cannery, grain dealers and wholesalers and retailers. The regulations will not be applicable to firms doing a business of less than $100,000 annually.

Completion of pending conferences between the food administration and representatives of trades and producers and consumers has delayed issuance of the President's proclamation.

"The prime purpose of the Food Administration," the announcement said, "is to protect the patriot against the slacker in business. It has generally been recognized that the enormous obligation imposed on the American people to feed our soldiers at the front and the allies creates a disturbing factor in trade which allows opportunity for a few to impose burdens upon the many and that it is of vital national importance that such control should be exerted as will remedy, so far as may be, the economic disturbance incident to the war."

Terminating speculation, "It has been the desire of the Food Administration," the announcement continued, "to secure the co-operation of all patriotic men in the various trades so as to eliminate speculation, hoarding, unreasonable profits, wasteful practices, etc., in the great distribution system of the country."

"The licensing provision in the food bill is limited in operation to the channels of trade which lie between the farmer on the one hand and the retailer on the other, except as it extends to those few retailers who do an annual business of more than $100,000."

"The food administration has selected about 14 basic commodities and their products as forming the prime basis of life, and has limited its licensing control to these commodities, and also in so far as practical, eliminated the smallest units of business in the country."

"It is the purpose of the food administration to effect conservation in the commercial use of these commodities and to keep from flowing toward the consumer in direct lines through the channels of trade in an economical manner as possible. The administration does not wish to disturb the normal and necessary activities of business and no business factor who is performing a useful function will be expected to surrender that function."

"Provisions of Food Law. The administration is, however, charged with several duties. The producer must have a free outlet and a ready market. There must be no manipulation or speculation in foods. There must be no hoarding in foods. Unfair or unreasonable profits must be eliminated. Discriminatory and deceptive and wasteful practices which in any way restrict supply or distribution must be stopped."

"These are the provisions of the food law. The licensing system which was authorized by the law provides a more effective machinery for its enforcement. It must be made clear that these operations become illegal only upon the issue of licenses. They have been illegal since the tenth of August, when the law was passed, and numerous cases coming to the attention of the food administration have been prosecuted. The licensing has the effect of giving definition to the provisions of the bill and the practices which the trader should respectively follow in connection therewith."

"The proclamation will require all of these handling the commodities concerned to apply for licenses before Nov. 1, upon forms which will be supplied upon application to the food administration."

"Applicants will receive licenses without cost and the regulations governing those dealing with the commodities licensed will be issued in course."

"Must Have License by Nov. 1. After Nov. 1, no unlicensed persons will be permitted to trade in the commodities enumerated in the proclamation. Those who receive licenses will be required from time to time to make reports to the food administration on their activities in prescribed form. These reports will be carefully safeguarded so that private information given to the Government in confidence will not be divulged to competitors. Men experienced in the production and merchandising of the licensed commodities will assist in interpreting the law and a legal department has been organized to facilitate its enforcement."

"While authority is vested in the food administration to suspend any license and to impose penalties for violation of the food law, special regulations. It is thought the publication of the food administration to accomplish these ends of public service."

ADMINISTRATOR OF FOOD IN MISSOURI

PILOT LENDS BALLOON TO RIVAL WHOSE OWN WAS PUNCTURED

MUSKOGEE, Ok., Oct. 10.—Three balloons which left the ground at the Muskogee Fair Grounds yesterday, drifted northeast in an effort to establish a new distance record for gas bags. The race is conducted under the auspices of the International Balloon Association.

The starters were the Dayton, Warren, E. Rason, pilot, Prof. John W. Wise, J. M. O'Reilly, pilot, St. Louis No. 1, Bernard Von Hoffmann, pilot.

It was discovered at the last moment that the Topeka, on which Von Hoffmann, the youngest aeronaut in the race, had planned his hopes, had developed a puncture.

Capt. William F. Asmann of St. Louis, standing beside his St. Louis No. 1, which was being inflated, noted the youth's disappointment and offered Von Hoffmann his bag and voluntarily withdrew from the race. Von Hoffmann was accompanied by his 14-year-old brother, Albert von Hoffmann, Jr. of St. Louis.

The Muskogee, which was to have been piloted by the veteran Capt. John Berry of St. Louis, did not get away. A puncture after the bag had been inflated, put it out of business.

Union's Information Letter Legal. ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 10.—The principle that labor unions have the right to circulate by letters or publication requests that their members refuse to assist in the construction of buildings in which non-union-made materials are used, when such circulation is not done maliciously, but solely for the benefit of the union's members, was upheld by the Court of Appeals yesterday.

MUMFORD SWORN IN AS FOOD ADMINISTRATOR OF MISSOURI

Dean of Missouri College of Agriculture. Appointed by Hoover, Will Handle State Problems.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Fredrick B. Mumford, chairman of the Missouri Council of Defense and dean of the Missouri College of Agriculture, yesterday was appointed Federal Food Administrator of Missouri. Mumford took the oath of office here last night.

Although no official announcement was made, it is understood that Mumford also was asked to accept the post of administrator for Missouri, but declined because of his other duties. It is expected that he will be granted leave of absence from the State University so that he may devote his entire time to the food situation in Missouri.

Mumford will return to Missouri and will immediately begin the organization of the Food Bureau. He will have agents in all parts of the State and will be responsible only to the food administration here.

Under Hoover's plan to place in the hands of State administrators all the food problems of their respective jurisdictions, Mumford will have complete authority to carry out the provisions of the food control law in Missouri.

Dr. Mumford has been dean of the Missouri Agricultural College for 12 years and has stood sponsor for the extension department of the college since 1912.

He has been a member of the National Council of Defense since 1917, and has been a member of the Missouri Council of Defense since 1918.

He has been a member of the Missouri Council of Defense since 1918, and has been a member of the Missouri Council of Defense since 1919.

He has been a member of the Missouri Council of Defense since 1919, and has been a member of the Missouri Council of Defense since 1920.

He has been a member of the Missouri Council of Defense since 1920, and has been a member of the Missouri Council of Defense since 1921.

He has been a member of the Missouri Council of Defense since 1921, and has been a member of the Missouri Council of Defense since 1922.

FAMOUS AND BARR CO.

Nothing that's worth while in this world is attainable without sacrifice. America's part in the war is the supreme example of sacrifice, and for civilian Americans one of the noblest forms of service is the absorption of

Liberty Bonds

Money—unlimited money—is an essential to the successful conduct of the war. In the fullness of our national prosperity, we should fairly flood the treasury at Washington with gold. St. Louis will surely do her part.

Subscription booths on the Main Floor. Denominations as low as $50.00 are offered. The bonds pay 4% interest.

Friday in the Tea Room

Children's Style Show

Posed by children, and with the entertainment furnished exclusively by youngsters, the correct winter modes for children will be formally introduced in the Famous-Barr Tea Room, on the Sixth Floor, Friday afternoon.

The Program Will Begin at 3:15

It will include a number of delightful musical and dancing entertainments by some of the best talent in St. Louis. Special Matinee Luncheon Served at 3:30. Music by Maxwell Goldman's Orchestra.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Traveling Men's Tax Burden.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
After reading in your paper tonight of Mr. Wade's address at a luncheon at the City Club today, in which he spoke particularly of the "Apathy of the Rich" (mostly no doubt new-made) to buying new Liberty Loan bonds, I wish to just call the attention of the general public to the special tax which will be imposed on one class of business or calling alone. The "Traveling Man"—which is to be added on Nov. 1, 1917.

Some time ago I saw a statement to this effect: 67 per cent of the "knights of the grip" were working on commission basis, which means that they assume all and every expense attached to their covering the territory allotted them—railroad fare, hotels, handling of trunks or whatever baggage they are compelled to handle and (heaven pity the man with much excess baggage).

The tax of 5 per cent goes on all railroad transportation, passenger service and its contingencies. This means that the ticket which formerly cost $6, costs $6.48. As I understand it, they are also taxed on their income, making our expenses larger, our earnings smaller. Necessarily, by this, in good, plain truth, this class are doubly taxed, especially if they have any earning ability.

So far I have not heard a single thing from any one of these "good fellows." Their commission basis yet remains the same.

Have been traveling or tramp, as you may call it, more than 21 years, working always on a commission basis. Now, why do these "good fellows" traveling men (in majority of instances) has built the fortune for, hesitate?

If the estimate of 67 per cent commission men is anywhere near correct, what would the rich man say or do were they in our shoes? So far the traveling man has not kicked or do they expect to as far as I can learn.

Alderman's Milk Report.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
Relative to the milk controversy, I wish to throw a little light on the subject through the medium of your most valuable paper. To the public in general, and especially to the Aldermen's Committee, who, behind closed doors with the distributor, put the price of 14 cents per quart on milk or, rather, so-called milk, and 18 cents per quart for the double-distilled quality.

As an American, whose life's motto has been to live and let others live, and as a producer and distributor of pure, sanitary milk, whose experience dates from September, 1888, to the present day, I submit the following statement of honest facts, giving cost of production, distribution and a fair, reasonable and very satisfactory profit, without going into unnecessary details.

Statement:
Sole price delivered 1-4 to 1 mile distant from city.....$11.10 per cent.
Cost of production.....10.10 per cent.
Cost of distribution.....1.00 per cent.
Total cost.....11.10 per cent.

Net profit.....34.40 per cent.
Net percentage.....31.10 per cent.

The above figures are based on the given-and-take plan, or the law of average, and prevailed year in and year out.
The business being conducted on a strictly cash basis, there were no bad debts to be charged to "Brown," who paid in advance, as John did; and they paid for one bottle only, whereas today they pay for 500 bottles per year, the same being returned to the so-called dairy company, who, like most of our Aldermen, never owned a cow but is qualified to figure for the producer, who is never paid a living price for milk, as also for the consumer, who elected them.

Now, Messrs. Aldermen, the public want to know, and have a right to know, by what process of algebra you reached the conclusion that milk, as you term it, is worth 14 cents per quart, and we want to know whether you represent Americans or agents of the Kaiser.

J. F. HANNIGAN.

Unable to Understand.

From the New York Times.
A Teutonic paper like that one in Austria the other day solemnly warned England that our real aim in entering the war is to dominate Europe, and that we will next turn on her, we regard it as humbug of a peculiarly comic sort. Nevertheless, it is possible that the Austrian paper really believes it. The other nations have no desire for world domination, that there are even nations which have no desire to aggrandize themselves at the expense of others in a sense short of world domination. The Teutonic mind is simply unable to understand or even conceive.

HOW TO INVEST MONEY.

Joseph D. Bascom, secretary and treasurer of the Broderick & Bascom Rope Co., whose company has bought $250,000 of the second series of the Liberty Loan, gives excellent reasons for investing in the bonds.

Mr. Bascom is a successful business man and while he urges investment in Liberty Bonds as a patriotic duty, he sees the advantage from a business standpoint of buying the bonds.

Investing surplus earnings in Liberty Bonds, Mr. Bascom says, is better than paying dividends. The great corporations are accumulating funds to meet increased taxes and value depreciation. What better investment for these funds and other reserve funds than 4-per-cent Government bonds—the safest in the world?

Individually Mr. Bascom is setting a good example to small investors. He says that the Eastern capitalists are investing in Liberty Bonds and he has always found it wise to follow their example. The first rule for small investors is to follow the advice or example of those experts who know how to invest money to best advantage. Men who have made and are making money are the best guides in money saving and money making.

Small investors cannot do better than follow the leadership of the big investors and the capable business men at the head of successful corporations. Buy Liberty Bonds.

The price of whisky having gone up, probably less of it will go down.

THE ATTACK OF OCT. 9.

The new drive of the allies in Belgium is interesting for several reasons. One is that the preparations for it were completed and it was successfully executed within five days after a smash on a scale of virtually equal magnitude.

It has seemed a painfully long time between smashes in the past. After one offensive, the period it required to prepare for another also enabled the enemy to pull himself together and prepare a new defense. The cutting down of the intervals between attacks may be attributed in part to the decreasing power of the Germans. Movements would have been made with greater caution against the enemy of one year ago or two years ago. But it is principally due to the increasing power of the entente. With the enemy less formidable and the entente very much more formidable, the equation expressive of power has undergone a great shifting in terms.

And whatever other events may impend in the war zone during the remainder of 1917, it will surely be a record of interest in the chronology of the fighting that an attack of the importance of this one and attended with its success was made as late in the season as Oct. 9. The entente lines are obviously marked by a feverish activity to take advantage of the few days left before the season of continuous low temperatures sets in.

Secretary of War Baker optimistically predicts that the submarine bases on the Belgian coast, with Ostend, Zeebrugge and the Bruges system of canals, are about to become untenable, but he fixes no probable date for the German retirement. If the Germans are planning another "retreat of victory," it is so certain that, like the last one, it can be postponed from fall until spring? If, with the terrain converted into a morass and alet storms of winter discomfort prevailing, the entente soldiers could do what they did Oct. 9, what is to prevent those soldiers from keeping up their drives until the late December, or even continuing them all the winter?

INCONSIDERATE DAIRIES.

Just as the Aldermen, after exhaustive inquiry had decided that 14 cents a quart is the absolute minimum in retail prices of milk and that no distributor can sell it for less, two or three of the important dairies of the town decided to continue a profitable business by selling milk at 13 cents. This was very inconsiderate in these dairies.

Is it the Aldermanic idea that these two or three dairies shall be prevented from ruining themselves and forced by ordinance to go to 14 cents?

THE UNGRATEFUL SISTER REPUBLIC.

Even Ecuador is getting uneasy and arranging the present dispositions whereby she will prevent the finger of scorn from being pointed at her after the war as a sympathizer with German aims. That she may even become a belligerent on the side of the entente is a possibility.

But so far there has been no official indication that the nearest of all our Latin-American neighbors, Mexico, has been touched by the impulses with which we entered the war. In a matter in which a choice must be made between the interests and ideals of this hemisphere and those of a distant international distributor, the sister republic has so far been inclined to give no preference to those with whom she is bound by the strongest of ties.

That the country which, of all our neighbors, has been the greatest beneficiary from all advantages within our power to bestow—of our cooperation in a thousand ways for her development in time of peace and of our unexampled forbearance in the time of her own disorders—should be the least sympathetic of all toward our sacrifices for common ends and the least disposed to accept our leadership on the great world issue, shows the thoroughness with which the work of German propaganda has been done in the sister republic. If, as some predict, a change on the part of the ungrateful Carranza is to be expected, the influences working for the change are moving very slowly.

One thing that has already begun to cripple the Kaiser's agents is that the pro-German newspapers in Mexico are absolutely dependent on the United States for all supplies used in printing, being particularly at the mercy of the Paper Trust. Orders from them for print paper are already being refused and they will soon be without the materials for getting out their treacherous sheets.

The deprivation which will and these vicious newspaper attacks at our very doors is, of course, not due to any patriotism on the part of the Paper Trust. The trust has seen in the war only an opportunity to practice an outrageous hold-up on the patriotic American newspapers which are devotedly supporting the cause of the Government and has kept the enemy press in Mexico well supplied with print paper during the worst of its attacks.

The paper scarcity in those hostile print shops is due to the exercise of powers placed in the Washington officials' hands under the embargo act and the trading-with-the-enemy act.

DEPLORABLE CASE OF MR. MACAULEY.

In ordering the release of Alexander P. Macauley in New York, District Attorney Swann declared that never had an arrest been made with less justification and never had a case of innocence battling for vindication presented features more pathetic.

The extraordinary hardship imposed by Mr. Macauley appeals to the sense of justice of every citizen. He was mistaken in St. Louis during the holidays of last year for a swindler named Keough, pretending also to come from Toronto, and was arrested on Dec. 31. He satisfied the authorities of this city of his own reputable standing and identity and was released, but was re-arrested and taken to New York to answer for Keough swindles in that city.

Mistakes in identity having more or less serious consequences are recorded frequently. A feature of this case is the persistency with which witnesses in not one but many cities perpetuated the original blunder and the amazing length of time required for his vindication.

To dissociate himself with the swindler with whom he was confounded through no fault of his own is said to have cost Mr. Macauley $50,000 and the waste of nearly a year in time. It should have been possible to do it in a few days and at a very much less cost in money. Of the many deplorable features of the case, its object lesson on court delays is one of the most deplorable.

The Middle West is getting ready to mobilize one of the greatest forces toward making the world safe for democracy—the corn crop.

TREASON IN CONGRESS.

In his report recommending the expulsion from the United States Senate of Senator William Blount of Tennessee for fomenting disturbances among the Cherokee Indians, John Quincy Adams not only offered convincing arguments of the power of the Senate to expel a member for misconduct, but added an eloquent plea in support of the duty of the Senate to deprive members guilty of treasonable conduct of the power to do harm by reason of their official positions. He said:

"Is it conceivable that a traitor to that country which has loaded him with favors, guilty to the common understanding of all mankind, should be suffered to return unquestioned to that post of honor and confidence, where in the zenith of his good fame he had been placed by the esteem of his countrymen, and in defiance of their wishes, in mockery of their fears, surrounded by the public indignation, but inaccessible to its bolt, to pursue the purposes of treason in the heart of the nation's council? Must the assembled rulers of the land listen with calmness and indifference, session after session, to the voice of notorious infamy, until the sluggish step of municipal justice can overtake his enormities? Must they tamely see the lives and fortunes of millions, the safety of present and future ages, depending upon his vote, recorded with theirs, merely because the abused benignity of general maxims may have remitted to him the forfeiture of his life?"

This could not be more timely and pertinent to the cases of members of Congress guilty of obstructing war measures and giving aid and comfort to the enemy if it had been written yesterday. There is far more reason for action against Senators and Representatives who betray their trust and stab their country in the deadly peril that now besets the nation than in the petty troubles caused by the Indian outbreaks. The Adams report suggests a standard of duty and a test of criminality in its members which Congress cannot ignore.

SOWING SEEDS OF FALSHY.

There seems to be a growing tendency on the part of some press associations and newspapers in this country to sow discord and distrust between America and the countries of the entente. Perhaps this is being done innocently through a perverted news sense that magnifies every baseless and shifting rumor into the verisimilitude of a substantiated fact or perhaps the motive is not so innocent.

Take for example the recent "story" circulated throughout the country to the effect that the British Admiralty had refused to make known to the American naval officers in foreign waters its submarine-destrorying secrets and that the Navy Department in Washington was greatly aggrieved because of that alleged fact.

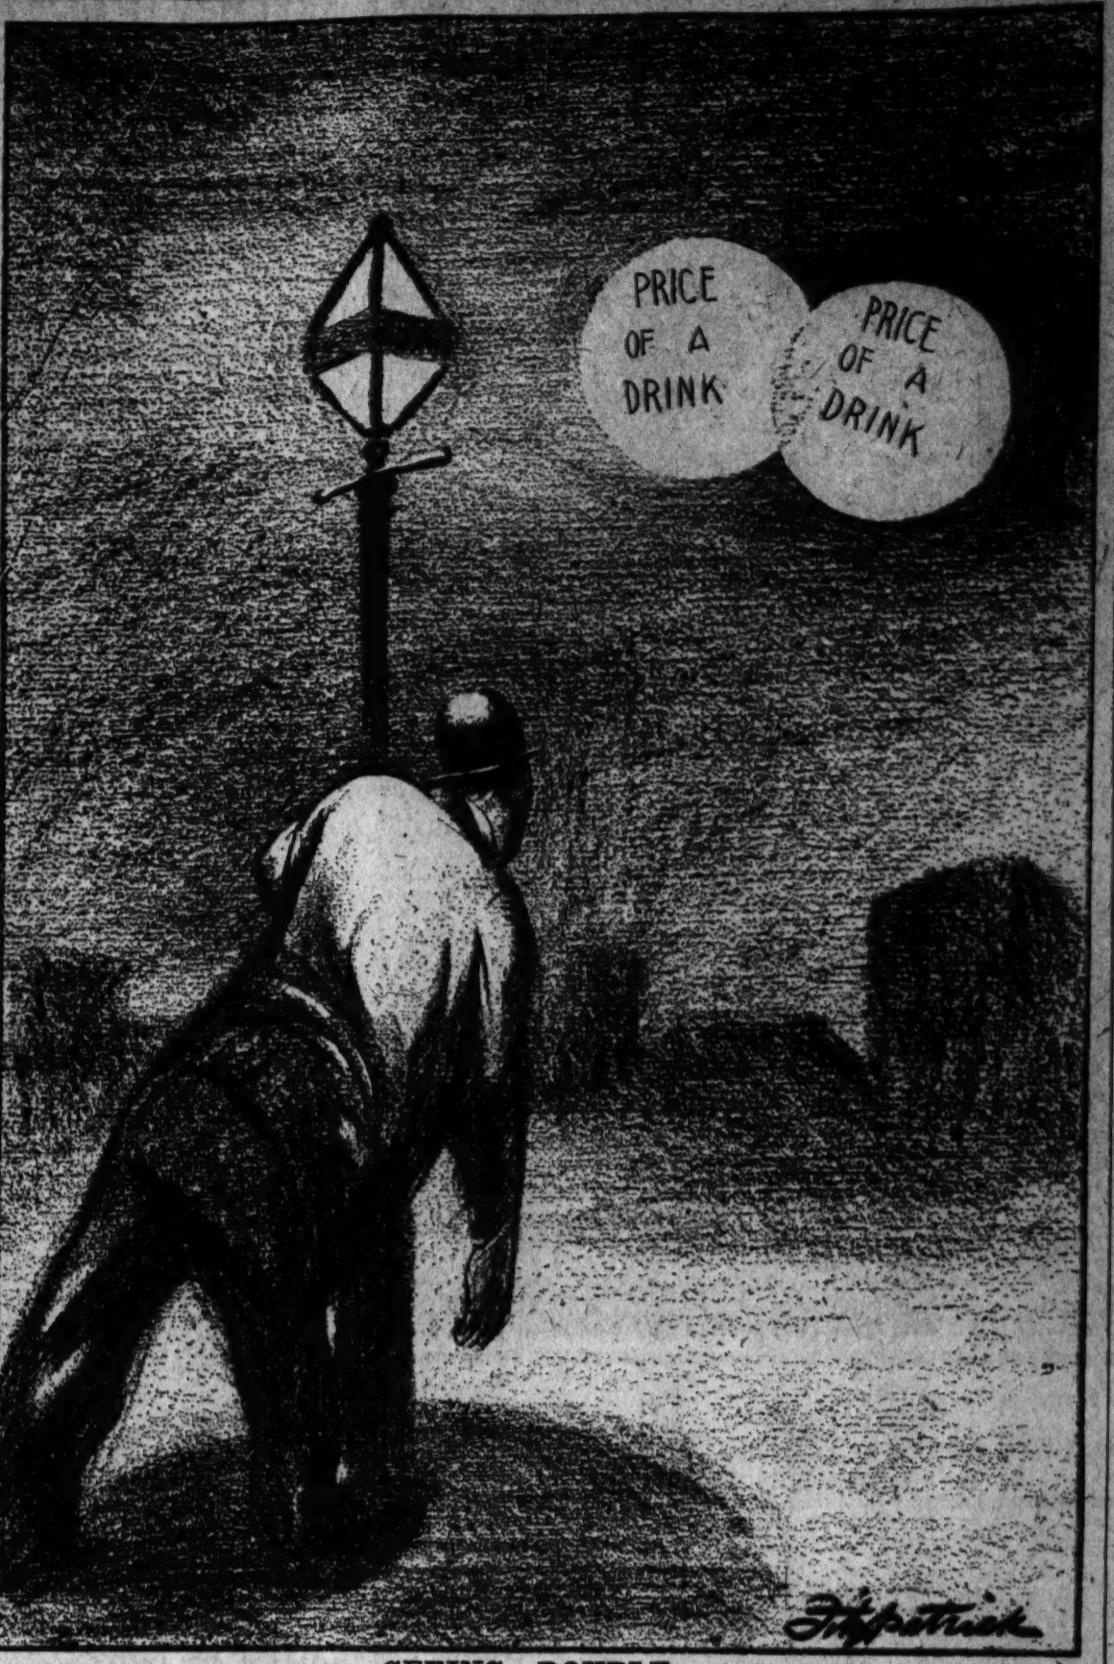

The story is obviously ridiculous and false on its face and it was hardly necessary for Secretary Daniels or London to make a denial. Does it seem reasonable or possible that England would conceal from its greatest ally in the war against ruthlessness the best means for combating U-boats, especially when it is the fate of the British mercantile marine that is at stake? What would be the gain to Britain? Does it distrust America? The matter is too foolish to discuss.

Several weeks ago a story was printed in this country that the allies were aggrieved at the slowness of America in mobilizing its forces. That narrative was made out of whole cloth. As a matter of fact the entente is pleasantly and frankly surprised at the great speed being shown by this country in its war preparations.

Press associations that send out baseless stories calculated to cause differences between the champions of democracy and newspapers that print them are doing their country great harm. A lie is bad, but a lie that injures one's country is despicable.

Nonense Here and There.

From the London Chronicle.
Amusing misstatements are often exchanged by schoolmasters in the holidays. Here is a delightful muddle made by a schoolboy of Horace's well-known line: "Dulce est desipere in loco." Instead of "it is pleasant to be colloquially as 'Nonense, now and then, is pleasant or to have similar phrases," the boy wrote, after much cogitation: "It is pleasant to disappear on an engine!" Doubtless it would be, after the master had glanced at such a translation.

TO FRANCE.
D AUNTLESS France, see hear thee calling,
Calling to us o'er the sea;
And we'll hasten, wounded nation,
To send strength and hope, to thee.
Temperances attuned to beauty,
Hare perfumes, and works of art;
Bleeding at the hands of ruffians,
Touches deep Columbia's heart.

Home of Rostrand and De Musset,
Home of Chateaubriand and D'Ale,
Home of LaFayette and Bernhardt,
Home of genius, lucid spark.
Home of fortitude and courage
Home of suffering, bleeding heart;
Home of anguished wife and mother,
Home of bravery, thou art!

Side by side we'll meet those ruffians
Who have dared to torture thee;
Forward march—the Stars and Stripes,
Onward, on to Victory.

The sign painter who put the fun in this one on Locale avenue is doing what he can to make the world cheer up:

Our sign hunter thinks this one on the Gravois road must refer to duck eggs:

Sign Hunter 948613974002, who found this at Carbondale, Ill., says the world has been looking for someone who can do this longer than it has been looking for an honest man:

We Recover Umbrellas.

Sign Hunter 9164873044 says this advertisement in the Centralia (Ill.) Sentinel is one of the finest bits of differentiation he ever saw:

For Sale—A runabout Buick.
His guess is that the advertiser, who probably gave the car to his son for a Christmas present, means what he says and not Buick runabout, too.

RAILROAD TYRANNY.

WHILE we are in something of a co-operative mood in this country, why isn't it a good time to talk about the mystery of what the railroads sometimes do with freight? We all appreciate that war shipments take precedence over everything else, and we want them to do so; but what we are talking about here goes back of the war. It touches upon things that have tried men's souls when war could not be used as a handy excuse. Not that we doubt the great pressure upon the railroads today; but here is a letter to Just a Minute from the salesmanager of a big factory in Detroit. It is an interesting commentary on railroads and will stimulate the growing impression that private ownership is not big enough for the railroad business. This gentleman says, apropos a delayed shipment of which inquiry has been made:

"Chicago is just 300 miles from Detroit, and ordinarily the railroad companies will make delivery of less than carload shipments in three or four days. We have had a number of shipments recently, on the road to Chicago from two to three weeks; and in one instance, it took exactly a month. There isn't anybody on earth, including our beloved President, who can get any information from any of the railroad companies as to what is happening to a shipment after delivery to them. For more than three years the writer has made strenuous efforts to extract, from time to time, information from the various railroad companies running out of Detroit as to what happens to delay shipments. He has never been able to obtain the slightest clue in a single case. We have had the Michigan Central take a shipment from us here for Windsor, Ontario, and deliver it there 15 days after. Even personal appeal to the President of the Michigan Central Railroad Co. for a statement as to what caused the delay, failed in results.

"There is a popular notion that when a shipment has been sent out by a railroad company, it can be traced from origin to destination. Let us assure you that this is a huge joke, to say the least. To make written requests on any railroad company to send a tracer, is an absolute waste of time and postage. As a matter of fact, the railroad companies themselves do not know and cannot tell you. The most they can say is that the shipment left such a point on such a day in car number so and so. Beyond that they know nothing, and long before they can get any information the shipment has either reached destination or has been totally lost.

"There is a Federal law requiring railroad companies to move freight at a minimum of something like one hundred miles per day. We do not know where this law is, but we do know that it is violated every minute of the day. The whole railroad system of our country is fraudulent in conception, villainous in operation and suicidal in service."

However, maybe the pacifists will get their dander up when they pay their war taxes.

Submarine news is about to get into the river column.

It is not the number of rogues that is discouraging, but the friends they have.

It is supported by poles—camouflaged stacks of straw containing servers, who inch forward while the fields behind them—camouflaged dummy cannon, mounted on a spurious place, with stuffed camouflaged about them, to draw the enemy's attention. In the case of the army of the foe. Whole trains on sidings, loaded with supplies, are painted out of the landscape, and the numerous and the impediments which go to make the army's progress are camouflaged. The enemy's progress is broken color. and my stockings on a certain chair. Just what I needed to get ready for a hurry. But that night I couldn't find a pair of stockings, although I hunted frantically. I was much more worried over my disappearance than the bullets raining around the house.

"You see, nothing much really has happened to me, after all," Mrs. Funston ended, with true soldierly modesty.

"YOU never were sorry that you married a soldier?" I interrogated.

"Never," she said, with an inflection at once quiet and dauntless. "The army life is a splendid thing for a man. I get so tired reading the untruths printed about it."

"For the young man, a year or two in the army is the best possible preparation for the rest of his life. Often he is remade, physically. When I see these little, pallid, stoop-shouldered fellows, I think of the young men who were in the army. They are so much more than the boys we see today."

finer work for a man than army work. He can never get rich or have many of the so-called good things of life. But in civilian life only a few men earn fortunes. And how much in ideals, honor and domestic companionship is sacrificed to attain them!

"I'm tired of the army man enjoys a wonderful companionship with his wife and family. He is home for luncheon, home for dinner, and really he and his wife are less apart than many couples in St. Louis. Then the army man has the chance to travel and to meet really big people. For that I don't mean people who happen to have money, but people who are making the world's history."

"It's a wonderful service," the widow of Gen. Funston ended with a loud conviction. "And I think that it is up to American women, mothers of men, to make themselves also mothers of patriots who are willing to serve their country for at least a part of their lives and to think less of dollar getting."

The Post-Dispatch Daily Short Story SMOOTHING THE PATH FOR BILL By SAM HELLMAN. Written for the Post-Dispatch.

WILL HEFLIN stood outside the jeweler's window balancing himself on one foot and regarding a tray of rings with a vacant stare. Once he nervously started for the entrance, but turned around and came back to the window. A policeman at the corner looked at him strangely and began moving in Bill's direction.

Heflin entered the store. A pleasant-faced clerk came up smiling. "Yes, sir, anything I can do for you?"

"Huh," said Bill, "I'd like to look around if you don't mind."

"Certainly, certainly. Glad to have you. Anything you're interested in particularly?"

The clerk's companionable smile steadied Heflin a bit.

"To tell the truth," he exclaimed with a brick-red flush, "I want to buy an engagement ring. Have you got any?"

"Engagement rings? Why, my dear sir, that's our specialty. Golden's engagement rings are famous. Do you know," he said, lowering his voice, "for all the thousands of rings we have sold, not one purchaser has been fitted or divorced? Some record, eh?"

"I'm glad to hear that," said Bill, with a nervous laugh. "I hope I don't break the record for you."

"No danger. What kind of a ring do you want?"

"I don't know. What kind are they wearing?"

"Tastes differ," replied the clerk with a shrug, but all the best people are getting them made of platinum."

"That's me, then. This ring is for the very best of the best people." The clerk brought out a tray from under the counter filled with platinum-clad rings.

"How much for that one?" asked Bill, pointing.

"I see you have taste," responded the clerk. "That will set you back $450. I don't mind telling you that's the best buy in the house. It will be worth $600 in a few months. We'll be glad to take it off your hands for what you pay for it if it doesn't suit."

"All right," said Bill, dragging a heavy roll from his pocket. "I'll take it."

"Of course," remarked the clerk, "you have the size of the lady's finger. This is much too big in all probability."

Bill balked and stammered. "No, I haven't got it. Darn it, she doesn't even know that I am buying it. I am just taking a chance, see?"

"Well," said the clerk with a laugh, "I guess you're pretty sure, all right."

"I wish I was. I'd give my right arm for it. It's hell, isn't it, pal, this suspense?"

"I've been through it. Don't worry. Without knowing the girl, I'll bet she has already picked out the furniture for the living room. They're pretty near all alike."

"Not alone," interrupted Bill, gloomily. "I'm afraid of her, to tell the truth. Suppose she should turn me down. It's funny talking to a stranger this way, but I've got to get this load off my chest or go nuts."

"Listen," said the clerk. "The House of Golden strives to please and keep its customers in a contented frame of mind. Care if I but in and help you along? You look like a good fellow, and I'll be glad to fix it for you. I've done it before."

"But?"

"Don't worry. I won't get you in bad. Will you leave it to me? I guarantee to relieve the suspense without hurting you or your chances in the least."

"Shoot," said Bill, "anything is better than dying of nervousness."

"All right, then. Give me the girl's last name and her telephone number. Olive, you say? All right, wait a minute. I'll be right back."

The clerk went to the telephone.

"Olive 34231. Yes, Olive. Hello! Is this Miss Price? This is Golden's Jeweler. Huh, yes, Golden's Jeweler store. A man by the name of 'Heflin' hissed the quaking customer.

"A man by the name of Heflin is here today. He bought a very expensive engagement ring, but I am afraid he gave me the wrong size—a half, he said—he's coming back in a couple of hours. What is that? No, he didn't mention any names, but I know you by sight, and I have seen you together several times. That's why I am taking this liberty. Huh? Yes, platinum. The best we have. No, he's gone, long ago. Five and a half, you say. How can you think such things? Of course, I shant breathe a word. Thank you and congratulations. Heflin—that is Bill is a fine chap. Good-bye."

"Cinch," said the clerk with a wide smile. "She's waiting for it."

"Much obliged," gasped Bill. "Can you get out and split a quart with me?"

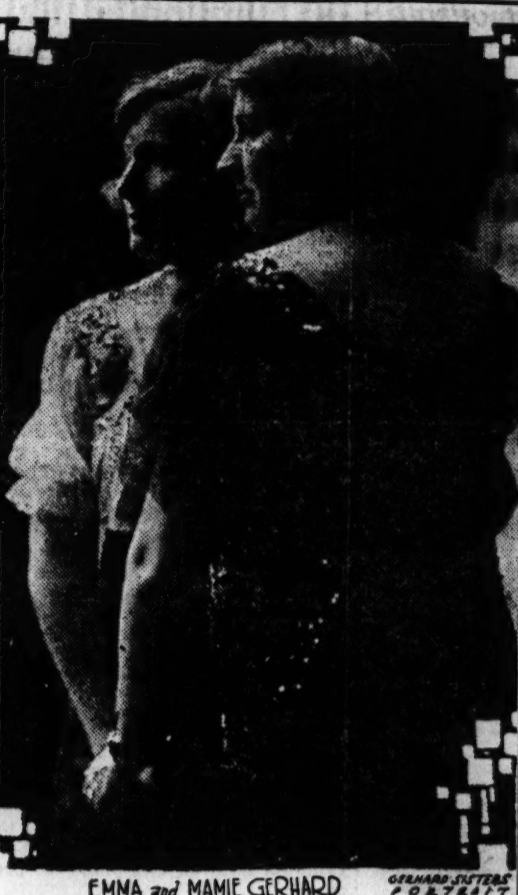

"No, thanks," smiled the clerk. "It's part of our work to keep the customers pleased. Good-bye and good luck."

In No Hurry to Fly.

JOHN, you ought to get in the aviation service, a York man told a negro last week. "You are a good mechanic and would come in handy in an airplane. How would you like to fly among the clouds a mile high and drop a few bombs down on the Germans?"

"I ain't in no special hurry to fly, Cap," the negro answered. "When we was up 'bout a mile high, 'spos'd engine stop and de white man told me to git out an' crank 'em."—York News.

St. Louis Women Who Have Made a Notable Success in Business—7

EMMA and MAMIE GERHARD

The Gerhard Sisters Have Built Up a Prosperous Photograph Business That Ranks With the Most Prominent Conducted by Men.

By Marguerite Martyn.

BEHIND a photograph business which seems to be as prosperous as any other in St. Louis is another story of woman's success.

In this enterprise there are two women, Misses Emma and Mamie Gerhard, sisters, but they declare their characters so perfectly complement one another that they may be considered as a unit. Their story is not so much one of sudden success as of steady, cumulative, substantial growth. About 20 years ago they went into the employ of Guerin, a pioneer photographer, and one of the best-known of his day in St. Louis. They were engaged in the mechanical end of the business and by degrees they mastered thoroughly the technical processes of photography.

After a time they bought out Guerin. Not a great deal of actual capital was involved in the transaction. Besides the technical knowledge, they themselves were able to invest the most valuable asset was Guerin's name, but they preferred to use their own name. By steady degrees they grew and progressed and moved west with the western trend of business until now their studio is housed in a building all its own, a picturesque bit of architecture, at a valuable location on Olive street, just west of Grand.

Their trade signature has become as familiar as that of any other photographer in St. Louis, and its fame is not alone local, but is recognized in the large associations of the profession throughout the land. Many medals and prizes adorning the walls of the studios testify to their status among competitors.

It seems rather odd that photography should be a profession so largely monopolized by men. Having once mastered the technicalities, which do not appear to be in any sense beyond the range of feminine limitations, women's taste and the artistic sense which is as likely to happen in one sex as in the other, photography would seem to be quite a logical and suitable occupation for women.

They are the energetic, enthusiastic type, not neurotic, but wholesome, hearty, radiant and magnetically optimistic. They are interested and active or keenly alive to every progressive movement of the day, the new woman movements, civic, political, patriotic and commercial developments. I would say that their complete sympathy with the spirit of the times is a dominant characteristic that may have helped them to move and progress.

To ask that they themselves interpret some underlying causes of their success may be the most direct way of getting at it. So I put the question to Miss Emma.

"Professionally," she responded, "it is because in photography we seek for the soul, the character of the subject, because we recognize that mere flesh and bones are no more interesting or lovable in themselves, than the corpse. Then we avoid the stereotyped in posture, in background, in lighting even as nature avoids the stereotyped in her every manifestation."

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This dissolves it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—ADV.

Stoves for the Pocket

STOVES are carried in one's pocket in Japan. In that country a small tin brazier, known as kwairo, and somewhat resembling a cigar case, is used for personal heating purposes. N. Kawaguchi, who describes the device in the Japan Magazine, says that there is considerable rivalry in the invention of fuel—a very difficult matter, since it must not emit smoke or fumes. The fuel is in the form of a roll, like sausage, and will last for three hours, giving considerable warmth to the part of the body where it may be placed. We quote the writer's words from an abstract in the Scientific American Supplement:

"One put inside the bosom of the Kimono prevents a third-class train journey from feeling too chilly. Delicate pupils keep one in their clothes while at school in winter, and so equipped anyone may sit comfortably in an unheated room. The aged and the fold-footed sleep with the kwairo at their feet. Cramps or colic can be easily soothed by placing one across the pit of the stomach like a furrow, lighted and smoothed by the hand."

The excellent fuel used in the pocket-stove, the writer goes on to say, was invented as long ago as 1882 by a man named Sokichi Yamazaki of Tochi, in the province of Shimane. We are also told that:

"The materials from which the pocket-stove fuel is made are hemp stalks, mulberry, the koku and the calappa plants, and a kind of vegetable oil, as well as pulverized nut sent to town to be made into fuel."

The fiber has been taken. These are turned into charcoal. The method is simple. A big bundle of the hemp stalk is put in a hole in the ground and covered with a layer of straw. The stalks are smoldered without air until carbon is produced. This is pounded in a mortar. . . . The farmers devote spare time to this occupation, and make an extra penny. The material thus produced is sent to town to be made into fuel for the pocket-stove. As the raw material from which the fuel is made cannot be used for anything else, the profit is great, usually about 50 per cent. In the final composition, a little saltpetre is used to facilitate combustion, and, also, the leaf of a tree resembling the maple is used to stick the powder together."

Luminous Belt to Save Lives

A NEW YORK inventor has just patented a luminous lifebelt which should be as great a factor in saving human life as the original belt. By means of his device all lifebelts would be supplied with a dry battery, attached to several incandescent lights. When placed about the body these lights would be automatically turned on in the case of a shipwreck at night and be easily foreseen. Every year many lives are lost because persons equipped with lifebelts cannot be seen when they are thrown overboard. But on the darkest night these luminous belts would reveal their position to searching parties. In the face of this invention it seems surprising that such a progressive step was not taken long ago.

Shoeless Germany Not Far Away

If any further sign were needed that Germany is "cracking under the strain" the fact that the time-honored custom among hotel guests in Germany of depositing their shoes outside their doors at night is about to be abolished ought to prove something. Formerly you could look up the corridor and read the names of all the shapes and sizes met your eye. The porter some time during the night would gather the shoes up, polish them and return them to your door—unless, of course, he gave your shoes to somebody else, which he usually did. Now, however, footwear is a great luxury in Germany, and thieves are not above making off with the precious leather footwear.

Therefore hotel guests are keeping their shoes indoors at night, perhaps even putting them under the pillow. For if a man loses his shoes in the Kaiser's dominions these days he must go to the Imperial Clothing Bureau for another pair, and before he can get them he must show his old shoes. Which is quite impossible when your shoes have been stolen. Therefore the precaution and the falling into disuse of the time-honored custom.

The Sandman Story --FOR TONIGHT-- By MRS. F. A. WALKER.

Thomas' Birthday.

THOMAS had so many uncles and aunts and cousins who loved him that his playroom was filled with all sorts and kinds of toys and books and games; in fact, there was nothing that Thomas could not find in his playroom.

When Christmas came it was hard to give him a gift he would appreciate, so when Thomas' birthday came around, and he was 16 years old, he did not know what to ask for a birthday gift.

His aunt was visiting his mother, and when one morning she came upon Thomas in the garden looking very sad and unhappy, she asked what had happened.

"I do not know what to wish for for my birthday," said Thomas. "I am afraid no one will give me anything, or, if they do, it will be like something I have now."

"Poor little rich boy!" said Aunt Jane, patting Thomas on the shoulder. "I don't see what you are so sad about. You have everything you want, don't you, Aunt Jane?"

"No, dear, there are plenty of little boys right in this city who have no toys," said Thomas. "All boys have everything they want, don't they, Aunt Jane?"

"Why don't they tell their father or mother, or their aunts and uncles?" asked Thomas.

"Because it would be no money for them to buy the toys if they told their father, or their mother, or their aunts and uncles?" asked Thomas.

"I will get the car and you put all the tops in it that you do not want any more," said Aunt Jane. "I will get the car and you put all the tops in it that you do not want any more."

Thomas' Birthday.

THOMAS had so many uncles and aunts and cousins who loved him that his playroom was filled with all sorts and kinds of toys and books and games; in fact, there was nothing that Thomas could not find in his playroom.

When Christmas came it was hard to give him a gift he would appreciate, so when Thomas' birthday came around, and he was 16 years old, he did not know what to ask for a birthday gift.

His aunt was visiting his mother, and when one morning she came upon Thomas in the garden looking very sad and unhappy, she asked what had happened.

"I do not know what to wish for for my birthday," said Thomas. "I am afraid no one will give me anything, or, if they do, it will be like something I have now."

"Poor little rich boy!" said Aunt Jane, patting Thomas on the shoulder. "I don't see what you are so sad about. You have everything you want, don't you, Aunt Jane?"

BANTAM CHAMPION TO FIGHT MAN WHO ONCE WHIPPED HIM

Pete Herman and Frankie Burns Matched for 20-Round Bout at New Orleans.

TITLE SHIFT MAY RESULT

New Jersey Scrapper, Although 28 Years Old, Is Now Boxing in His Best Form.

What may prove to be the only championship fight scheduled this fall, or even during the war, has been announced—that between the whirlwind little scrapper, Frankie Burns of Jersey City, and "Pete" Herman, bantamweight champion by virtue of Billy Rocap's edict.

The men have been matched to fight 20 rounds for the title at New Orleans, Nov. 12, and on that day, the little Crescent City Italian will carry out heartless sympathy—we are, always with the under dog-men. It will be an anxious moment, too, for Pete, the champ, in as much as he cannot help but remember that total Nov. 17, 1917, when he was forced to defeat by this same Mr. Frankie Burns, after trying for 13 rounds to check the storm of gloves hurled at him by the Jersey Scrapper. This bout is considerably—for the title holder—overlooked by the Andrews guide, in the records of both the American and British boxing.

When in this city Herman mentioned sickness as one alibi for his defeat, on the occasion mentioned, but no bantamweight champion by Burns needs any explanation for his defeat—the Skeeter is a first-class man and has always been in the title vicinity. When Coleman was champion Burns fought him 20 rounds to a draw and many ringers declared that the Easterner was deprived of a deserved "win".

Burns, although 28 years of age, has been fighting at his best clip in the last six or eight months. He has won at least 20 fights from the leading men of his class and it is by no means out of line to expect him to take the measure of the present title holder.

Burns has fought in this city. His whirlwind bout with Dutch Brandt, when the latter was at the top of his career, is remembered by those who saw that terrific little ringstorm.

Title Situation Clouded.

The bantam championship has been clouded a little during the past two years. Coleman lost it to Kid Williams. The Kid fought "Kewpie" Ertle in St. Paul, and the referee disqualified Williams for "foul." Technically this was the same as an official decision that Williams had lost and Ertle came right along as champion of the bantam championship. There was no doubt he could make the weight, but he was shy in the matter of challenges; and after a few months more or less profitable appearances in minor bouts, dropped out of sight. Williams, who had never stopped claiming that Ertle decision was a "frameup" and that the referee had no right to give a decision disqualifying him, returned to the ring as bantamweight champion throughout the Southern States. Not long ago he fought Kid Herman of New Orleans in a bout advertised as a championship and lost the decision on points. Herman seemed to have a legitimate right to be called champion. Ertle didn't make any effective effort to block his claim.

Herman is a rugged fighter. He has "made good." No doubt he will give Frankie Burns a good hard bout. Herman is a drafted man and has been under orders. The military authorities have taken him until the middle of November to fight in the ring, before being called to the colors. He told them he was perfectly willing to serve, but asked time to get together a fair sum of money to leave with his parents, when he goes to war.

LEWIS STARTS TRAINING.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—Ted (Kid) Lewis, welterweight champion, started training here today for three matches he has booked within the next six weeks at Oakland, Cal. He will meet Frank Barriault of Seattle, Wash., Frank Arango and later Willie Ritchie.

PATTERSON TO MEET BALL

Leo T. Patterson and Battling Ball have been matched to meet in the feature bout of the negro show to be staged at the Future City on Friday night. They are 135-pounders and well known locally. Two other contests and a battle royal will complete the card.

Disunion Is Causing Trouble Among Giants

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Big Jess Tearau, of Ironton, Mo., who worked as a reliever for the Giants in the second world's series contest at Chicago, declares that New York's poor showing is due to trouble among themselves. The fact that Herzog jumped the team before the big series, and went unpunished, though about 13 days, that Benny Kauff and Fred Merkle were out on the manager's criticism of his play in the first two games, and that in Sunday's paper, under McGraw's signature, some sharp things were said about other members whose club have combined to cause resentment.

The fact that McGraw has since delivered a sharp criticism of his men's work verbally, as reported in papers here, has also stirred up feeling among the men.

Miss Filley Has Lowest Score at Midland Valley

Her 99, Made in Beating Mrs. Terry, Is Best Card of 1917 Women's Golf Event.

Second round matches in the annual women's city championship golf tournament on the Midland Valley Country Club course were begun this morning. In the opening round yesterday, five of the 16 matches were defaulted. The medal play also was an improvement over that exhibited in the qualifying round.

The first surprise of the tournament came yesterday, when Mrs. J. E. Hannigan was the victor over Mrs. Eberhard Anheuser, 1 up. Miss Frances Filley, who turned in the best medal score—a 99 yesterday, eliminated Mrs. A. T. Terry, 2 up and 1 to play.

Mrs. A. N. Edwards, one of the favorites for the title won her match from Mrs. W. L. Schmitt by default. Mrs. L. P. Alois, of Westwood, another title candidate also went into the second round without playing. Mrs. A. R. Deacon defaulted.

Two Tracks and 65 Days Racing for New Orleans

Jefferson Track Will Open on Thanksgiving Day and Fairgrounds on Jan. 1.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 5.—This city will have 65 days of racing this winter. The time will be divided between the Jefferson Parish Fair, Inc., operating a mile track near Shreveport, just outside the city limits, and the Business Men's Racing Association, operating the Fair Grounds track in the city.

The Jefferson track will be open Thanksgiving day and race until the end of the year. The Fairgrounds will open Jan. 1, and race until Mardi Gras, Feb. 12.

Announcements to this effect have been made by both associations and the business men's racing association. The latter has been taken an interest in the project and are giving it the benefit of their experience.

CHICAGO FANS WAIT ALL NIGHT TO BUY TICKETS; TOLD GAME IS IN EAST

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—There were over a thousand baseball fans, who had been told that the game had been transferred to New York. As a result of this indifference to a place of news that was widely mentioned in the daily papers at the time, a line of fans several blocks long drew up before the American League headquarters last night, and when daylight broke was lounging on the sidewalk waiting for the sale of seats to open at 11 o'clock. The morning line was several blocks long at 11 o'clock, and at that hour, it was so long that a detail of police was sent out to inform the fans that the game would be in New York and that there wouldn't be any game anyway, on account of rain.

PIRATE INFILDER JOINS DRAFT CAMP IN TEXAS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 10.—Holke Warner, Pittsburgh National infiler, has been drafted again, this time for a world's series, he says, though his club trailed seven others in the National League this year. Warner, whose home is in Valverde County, Tex., reported yesterday at camp with the third draft contingent from this city.

He was assigned to the first company of military police and there was a celebration for the company has an important game in baseball scheduled for Saturday.

MRS. A. N. EDWARDS.

Mrs. Edwards was low medalist in the qualifying rounds of this city championship, now on at Midland Valley. In previous city and state tournaments she has nearly always been in semi-finalist or in the finals. Owing to the absence of Mrs. E. Lansing Ray, Miss Grace Semple and other strong rivals, Mrs. Edwards is expected to easily win the 1917 tournament.

World's Series Notes

By Arthur ("Bugs") Baer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Rain slipped the Giants a reprieve yesterday and McGraw absorbed the armistice as greatly as a hobo absorbs rest. As a team the Giants look like an accident going somewhere to happen. They were whales in their own pond, but minnows in the White Sox puddle. New York didn't accumulate a beating, yesterday, which shows that rain is the best pitching selection McGraw has made in three times.

Manager McGraw can prolong the series by pitching rain against the Sox, now against Red Russell and a blizzard against Cicotte.

Owing to the soupy accent to yesterday's atmosphere, the contest was played with one foot on the bantam line. The setting bugs played the sun fields in all the buffets. The wagers have flopped the New York Giants, now against Red Russell and a blizzard against Cicotte.

As matters now stand, Washington will be no weaker when it takes the field than when it was defeated by the Sox. The Sox have a fairly effective offense, and a defense that should hold its own. However, he lacks substitutes and that's where the rub comes in. Washington will probably look good enough in the early games during the first half, but it is a certainty that after a few games, the Sox will be in demand. Where Rutherford is to get them remains to be seen.

In yesterday's workout with Soidan, the open style of play was exploited by the Sox, eleven, even more than it had been in the earlier games. After trotting down the field for a few touchdowns via the new shift formation, the variety walked straight over the 110 yards with nine successive forward passes, not one of which went awry. The serial route seems to have been developed to a new perfection.

Central in Curtain Raiser.

It has been announced that the Soidan-Western game will be played as a curtain-raiser to the Washington-Philadelphia game at the Washington stadium on Saturday afternoon. This contest should be almost as big a drawing card as the collegiate contest. Soidan in its work has been playing a very unusual good form, while Western has its best team in years, judging from their season reports. This high school contest will be started at 1:30 p. m.

Cleveland Gets Off Right.

The Cleveland High School eleven auspiciously opened its season yesterday with a 44 to 10 victory over the Ranken Trades School eleven, as much as McKinley only defeated the Trades School players 54 to 10, the victory was a real one.

GROGAN'S REPORT ON LOMBARD'S PICKERS TO ACTION

Rutherford Prescribes Bruising Program When Assistant Returns From Scouting Trip.

MAKES SEVERAL CHANGES Benway Placed at Quarter—Soldan and Western in Preliminary at Francis Field.

Any Parkway football candidate who is able to survive the bruising program arranged by Coach Dick Rutherford for this week, may in all justice hereafter be considered a thoroughly initiated member of the gridiron squad of the myrtle and mink.

The opening act was presented yesterday afternoon in the form of a rough-and-tumble scrimmage session with the Soldan High eleven; the curtain will rise this afternoon on a like engagement with the strong Webster High eleven, while the hungry and maltreated freshmen will be brought on Thursday. A signal practice interlude on Friday will simply serve to keep the Fikkers in fettle before the big climax, the Lombard game on Saturday. Quite some program.

So, just as soon as everything is settled, and of the final scores they've made a note, With stern and sober faces they will get right down to cases And start to rounding up the Kaiser's goat.

BROWNS TO ROUND UP PITCHERS FOR WORK NEXT YEAR

Fielder Jones Says Club Will Bid for Every Hurler of Promise Obtainable.

HAS PRAISE FOR QUINN Claims Lowdermilk and Smith Deals Prove Bobby Knows Good Ball Players.

If anybody during these cold, clammy months to come happens to see a perfectly good pitcher roaming around loose with nowhere to go, please put a rope around him, box him up and ship him to C. O. D. to Fielder Jones, care Sportsman's Park, St. Louis. It doesn't make a particle of difference whether the gentleman in question throws with the right or left arm. The only requirement stipulated that he must be capable of traveling in first company.

The manager of the Browns passed out the information yesterday that he was going after pitchers this winter, and the sky was the limit as to the money he was willing to pay. Everything else will be subordinated to the acquisition of twirlers. Jones says emphatically that he needs that kind of baseball furniture, and he's going to have it.

Has "Beard" on Two.

"I have heard that waivers will be asked on two pitchers in the league in the very near future," said Fielder, "but these fellows haven't a chance in the world to get out of the league. I'll put in bids for them and I'll outbid the other fellows to get them. I don't care how much money I'll have to spend for them. I'm going to take the biggest flock of hurlers South with me next spring and I've ever cared about it. I don't find what I want among them. I'll keep on looking."

"Lowdermilk is going to be a wonderful pitcher for my team next year. Bank on that. He's shown me as much as Walter Johnson ever did, and he's saying so. Bob Groom isn't through, either, as some sharp seem to believe.

"And Smith, in the subject of Lowdermilk, let me say this—I'm not going to worry about finding talent for next season. Bob Quinn has said that he's going to land the short time he's been here than any man with the Browns since I took charge. I don't care how much money I'll have to spend for them. I'm going to take the biggest flock of hurlers South with me next spring and I've ever cared about it. I don't find what I want among them. I'll keep on looking."

Smith Has Great Arm.

"There isn't an outfielder in the business that has an arm like Smith. He gets the ball away from him quicker than any fellow I ever watched. He had a few faults at the plate when he came up, but he'll get over them in time and if he starts to pitch next season, he'll be a star. I'm all step to keep ahead of him. Quinn knows what I want and I know he'll get good players. These two deals will prove his judgment on ball players."

"The other half of the battery department isn't going to be slighted, either. Several's a good receiver, but he needs help and we'll find someone somewhere to give him a lift. As for the rest of the team, I'm prepared to talk about them at this time."

Huggins Still in Doubt.

Until Branch Rickey returns to the city, the status of Miller J. Huggins remains in doubt. Huggins is still an inhabitant of this municipal city and will be until the latter part of the week. Rickey is in New York to watch the world's series and is expected home about Friday or Saturday. Huggins isn't saying much about signing up, simply sitting tight and waiting.

WAGNER'S COLUMN STOCKS SCREAM BREAK

A Lesson in Preparedness. I would we do with it? This was the question asked by every citizen in Chicago during the first two games of the current baseball struggle.

The query, and the wonderment that went with it, were provoked by the apparent inability of every capacity of 25,000. The market for the Cardinals was a complete problem. Notwithstanding the countless hotels in the loop region the congestion was such that visitors were thankful if they obtained a chair by way of a bed. Many are said to have "carried the banner" all night for lack of even this meager accommodation. Wild-eyed hotel clerks, frenzied managers, weary-voted telephone girls, bedraggled waiters, pop-eyed bellhops and taxicabs as hard to find as gold-filled hen's teeth or baseball ducats, combined to make it plain that even the Miracle City was caught napping by the enormous influx of transients.

What Would Happen?

SHIFT the scene to St. Louis and the confusion would be multiplied to madhouse proportions. The Cardinals would have to be housed in boarding establishments, as in World's Fair year, a new fleet of sea-going taxis would have to be imported and a new ball park built—if the Cardinals won.

Even the Browns' park, at 20,000 seating capacity would be inadequate to handle the crowd.

However, bring on the world's series—a little hustling and preparedness could straighten out these difficulties. If we had a world's series chance.

Price Reduction Has Drawbacks.

WHILE the American League certainly boast that it carried out its promise to reduce world's series prices, there is a little fly in the ointment, and while it is true that the price between the pavilions and grandstand, and by putting a pipe railing around what were just grandstand seats, formerly, and calling them "box seats,"

The only injustice worked was in this last arrangement which made the regular season seats at $5.00, during the regular season sold for 75 cents—going some, eh? The broad fact remains, however, that they were worth it.

In order now to reduce the total gate receipts at the Sox park, the management increased its box seating arrangements from about 300 to playing seven hundred. This was accomplished legitimately by building new seats lower down, in front of the old boxes; by putting up temporary railings between the pavilions and grandstand, and by putting a pipe railing around what were just grandstand seats, formerly, and calling them "box seats,"

The only injustice worked was in this last arrangement which made the regular season seats at $5.00, during the regular season sold for 75 cents—going some, eh? The broad fact remains, however, that they were worth it.

SOCIALISTS TURN TO ATTEMPT DUST MICH

Chancellor's Charges concerning Propagation Plot to Sow Discontent Navy Unites Faction Complete Opposition Him.

Adjournment of the Reichstag This Week Precludes the Possibility That Immediate Action Taken Him Will Be Taken Standpoint Taken in Quarters That Chancellor Misused Naval Incident Effort to Make Peace Capital for Himself.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 15.—Many a paper crisis over German propaganda which so big in anticipation but small in results has passed place has caused a new and more serious crisis, caused by the attack on Chancellor Michaelis, Vice-Chancellor Hefferich and Minister of the Navy von Capelle to use the plot in the German navy as a weapon against the party of reform left in the Reichstag. It is not improbable that the immediate results of the attack on Chancellor Michaelis will be the resignation of the Government. The Government has been driven into complete and utter confusion by the attack on the Chancellor. The Socialists, the followers of Scheideemann have declared a formal declaration of war against the Government until Chancellor Michaelis has been removed from office. The Socialists, the followers of the Center and even the Liberals have criticized the attack on the Chancellor as one that ought not to be made, unless the Government could produce adequate proof of the guilt of the three Radical Socialists. The attack on the Chancellor is an actual conspiracy to prove which they evidence the Government will be obliged to produce. Stripped of its embellishments the statement reduces to the charge that the Socialists had been carried away by the attack on the Chancellor and that two of the Socialists had visited Deputy Vogtherr and Dittmann.

Socialists Grow Bold. The three Socialists used the play of the fact that the Government had made no attempt to try the Socialists before or after the attack on the Chancellor as an opportunity to be heard in the Reichstag. This argument evidently all but the Conservatives, the Radicals and the Socialists, dictated the attitude of the press which, despite the Radical Socialists' standpoint that Chancellor Michaelis misused the affair for political.

The newspapers intimate toward the close of the Reichstag, Deputy Haase and his Socialist colleagues appeared in the role of his accusers' accused and they print in Deputy Ledebour's ironical statement as Chancellor Michaelis' reply: "The prisoner will now stand."

Mutiny in the German Navy. Six Weeks Ago. LONDON, Oct. 11.—The mutiny among the German vessels of the fleet was reported in yesterday's news to have perhaps six weeks ago. According to an Amsterdam dispatch among the four battleships of the German fleet which were at Wilhelmshaven these battleships were the whose captain was thrown overboard and drowned. The landed Marines refused to follow the sailors who carried a mutiny in reported to have occurred on the German warship, which was at sea, toward the officers and the direction of Norway.
